

IBANEZ MAN OF HOUR IN CHILE

Former President Flies From Exile to Chilean Capital

Santiago, Chile, July 7.—Former President Carlos Ibanez, Chile's long-time strong man, flew from exile in Argentina back to Santiago yesterday and became the man of the hour just a year, lacking a fortnight, after he was overthrown.

Coming by plane from Argentina, he hurried to the home of his wife's relatives opposite the presidential palace he left on July 26, 1931, in flight from a popular uprising against his dictatorship. Then he went to the palace and conferred with Carlos G. Davila, head of the new Socialist government.

There were rumors to-day that Ibanez would be named Minister of Defense or a member of the ruling junta in an effort to strengthen the government of Senor Davila.

War Guilt Debate At Lausanne To-day

Amount of Germany's Reparations Liability Also Undecided at End of Day's Discussions

Lausanne, July 7.—The day's conversations between leaders at the Lausanne Reparations Conference failed to solve the "war guilt" issue and the differences over the amount of Germany's final liability, said an official statement this evening.

The negotiations will be continued to-morrow. It had been hoped agreement would be reached in order that the draft treaty being drawn up could be signed to-morrow.

The discussion since this morning, however, the announcement said, had not cleared the atmosphere. Chancellor von Papen of Germany had a long conference with Premier Herriot of France, and this evening the German chancellor interviewed Premier MacDonald, but when he left the British headquarters said the difficulties had not yet been straightened out.

DRAFT TREATY

While Premier Herriot and Chancellor von Papen were holding their conversations to-day, legal experts of several delegations to the conference continued their work of outlining the treaty which it was hoped would be signed.

It was understood the principle points of the treaty would be:

(1) A document regarding whatever reparations agreement may be reached, perhaps substituting a final German liability of between $600,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 for the reparations annuities.

DEBTS TO U.S.

(2) A gentleman's agreement linking up reparations with European debts to the United States, probably holding the lump-sum plan in abeyance until the United States has been heard from.

(3) A debt agreement among the European nations. It is understood agreements between Britain and France, and Britain and Italy, are that France and Italy will not be required to pay instalments pending ratification of such general agreement as may be reached here.

TREK TO OTTAWA UNDER REVIEW

Unemployed Ex-Service Men Discuss March on Federal Capital

The trek to Ottawa by members of the Working Class Ex-Service Men's League to present on August 1, demands by ex-service men, was discussed at a meeting held on Monday evening at the N.W.A. Hall. It was stated that the proposal was not sponsored by any branch of the Canadian Legion.

The march was explained as being a transcanada project, to include parties from all the principal cities. It was reported that 500 men had already left Vancouver on the transcontinental trek and several hundred additional would be leaving shortly. Final details concerning the Victoria delegation will be arranged at a later meeting.

The question of provision for the families of men joining the trek was brought forward and the meeting was informed that assurances had been given by the city relief office that regular relief would be granted wives and children of veterans participating in the journey to Ottawa.

Gas Price Advance Precipitates New Rate War in City

Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, was out of the city, but officials of the department were getting in touch with the minister on the subject of the increase.

VANCOUVER OPINIONS

Vancouver, July 7.—The public of British Columbia was jolted this morning by an unexpected advance of two cents a gallon in the price of gasoline.

Retail prices in Vancouver are now 32 cents for ordinary gasoline, with the usual additional two cents for higher-test fuels.

Telegraphic messages from eastern Canada are to the effect that the advance in gasoline prices is confined to British Columbia and is not Canada-wide.

Only a few days ago the price of gasoline in Ontario dropped one cent a gallon, but officials of the Imperial Oil Ltd., explained that this was due merely to local conditions which enabled them to drop the price.

GAS TAX EFFECT

Some gasoline dealers in Vancouver hold a theory that the rise in gasoline prices is an effort on the part of oil companies to force the British Columbia Government to take off the last two-cent addition to the tax in this province.

Gasoline companies agree, it is said, that effect of the government's levy has been a reduction in consumption to a point which is bringing the government less revenue than under the old five-cent tax rate.

Advance of 20 cents a barrel in crude oil prices in the United States fields as a result of increased summer consumption is one reason advanced by Vancouver managers of the large gasoline companies for the increase.

They vouchsafe no official explanation, saying that the increase is the result of orders from their various headquarters.

Canada Biscuit Bondholders Hold Off

Montreal, July 7.—Bondholders of the Canada Biscuit Company Limited to-day accepted a plan of reorganization submitted to them.

The plan provides for a new management and new working capital of $300,000. Under the plan the holders of the Canada Biscuit 6 1/2 per cent first mortgage sinking fund gold bonds waive interest payments, due May 1 and November 1, 1932, and May 1, 1933. If the company is unable to pay the November 1, 1933, interest, the holders are not to press for action, whereupon that payment will become a deferred charge on the company.

In compensation for the three interest instalments waived the bondholders will receive ten shares of new capital stock, for each $1,000 of bonds held.

Apart from the $1,700,000 of first mortgage bonds now outstanding, there are $3,519,000 of 7 per cent convertible preferred stock of $100 par, dividends on which have been suspended since May 1, 1927, and $9,780 no par common shares outstanding. The stock issues will be wiped out entirely and replaced by a new issue of $9,000 no par common stock.

ADVERTISERS HEAR EDITOR

A. E. Brayton, Des Moines, Addresses Pacific Convention at Vancouver

Vancouver, July 7.—The necessity of advertisers creating a desire to buy for the sake of the merchandise and not on account of price was emphasized by Arthur E. Brayton, editor of Dry Goods Merchants Trade Journal, Des Moines, Iowa, at the opening business session of Pacific Advertising Clubs convention here yesterday.

He declared many advertisers were trying to compel buying through the medium of price rather than by making buying a pleasurable adventure by creating the desire to buy through descriptions of merchandise.

"Use more originality in your advertising in presentation of the merchandise," the speaker said, adding, "but the advertising must not be best known for its cleverness, but for the fact that it gets the merchandise talked about. Present the real story of the merchandise to the customer in language he will understand."

Two much recent publicity has sought to compel buying rather than give the customer what he wishes.

Mr. Brayton said too many firms were "coasting along" during this depression, and had lost momentum "that can only be regained through advertising."

"Prior was not the 'be all and end all' of buying," he said. Buying power was the ability to buy, plus the desire to buy, and advertisers must create that desire, he declared.

The speaker presented statistics of many firms which had increased profits or maintained sales volume, during present times by intelligent and persistent advertising.

BIG OIL SHALE VENTURE FAILS

Sydney, Australia.—(By Mail).—Attempts of Australia's federal government to extract payable petroleum from the great deposits of shale at Newnes, near Sydney, have failed, primarily because the government has not sufficient money to continue with the enterprise.

For many years, off and on, the shale fields have been exploited with only one result—financial failure. The latest adventure in oil, however, had the backing of the government. Modern methods of oil extraction were introduced and a big distributing organization was created at great cost.

The result has been the same and the works have been closed down. The government is now trying to sell its plant, lease, and assets to anyone willing to make another attempt.

SELENIUM OPENS FIELD FOR CANADA

The addition of selenium during 1931 to the lengthy and diversified list of minerals produced in this country, places Canada in an excellent position to benefit from developments in the field of television transmission.

This substance, now being produced as a by-product of copper refining at Copper Cliff, has peculiar physical properties of twenty tons, mined on the Eldorado property at Great Bear Lake, was transferred from Waterways, Alberta, to the Department of Mines laboratories at Ottawa for treatment.

The publication is a compendium of information on every mineral produced in Canada in recent years. The production, exports, imports, important developments, market conditions and general situation with respect to each of the several minerals are reviewed. Copies may be had by applying to the director, mines branch, Department of Mines, Ottawa.

"Chuck" Gardiner Is Visitor Here

Charlie "Chuck" Gardiner, brilliant goalie of the Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League, and being next in the major circuit for the last two years, was a visitor in the city to-day. Gardiner, who resides in Winnipeg, is on a visit to the Pacific coast, the representative of the Winnipeg firm. During his short stay here Gardiner looked up Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, and exchanged greetings. After visiting the leading sporting goods firms, Gardiner returned to Vancouver.

NAVAL REDUCTION CONFERENCE URGED

SMALLER SHIPS; SMALLER GUNS

Gun calibre, ranging up to sixteen inches in the capital ships, were at present far too high, declared the Acting Prime Minister. He proposed capital ships laid down in the future should be limited to 7,000 tons with 6-inch guns (instead of 10,000 tons and 8-inch guns). He proposed a one-third reduction in the total of destroyers.

Mr. Baldwin declared submarines should be entirely abolished. The aircraft carrier, which ranks in the capital ship class, should like the capital ship be reduced to a maximum size of 22,000 tons. Mr. Baldwin declared, and its largest armament should be limited to 6-inch guns.

AIRPLANE LIMITATIONS

With respect to aircraft he proposed: 1. Complete abolition of all aerial bombing, within limits to be laid down by an international convention, which might allow aerial bombing of military ports.

2. Complete prohibition of attacks on civilians by land, sea or air.

3. Strict limitation of the unladen weight of all military and naval aircraft, with the exception of troop carriers and flying boats.

4. Numerical restriction of all military aircraft.

CUT BY FOUR-FIFTHS

In this regard, Mr. Baldwin pointed out that despite its greatly increased responsibilities since the war, Great Britain's air strength at the present time was only 20 per cent of the immediate post-war strength.

Mr. Baldwin's disarmament statement was afterwards circulated as a "white paper," an official declaration of British disarmament policy.

The Acting Prime Minister announced the Commons would have opportunity next Tuesday for debating not only the Geneva disarmament conference, but the Lausanne reparations and debts conference.

MAYOR'S BROTHER NAMED JUSTICE

Seattle, July 7.—A brother of Mayor John P. Dore, Attorney Frederick H. Dore, was named a justice of the peace yesterday by the board of County Commissioners to succeed the late John B. Wright.

The new justice was born in Boston forty years ago and graduated from the Seattle High School and Phillips Exeter Academy. He studied law in his brother's office after some years at sea, and was admitted to the bar in 1914.

MEXICAN POWER HAS REVENUE

Toronto, July 7.—Net revenue of $209,514 is reported by Mexican Light and Power Co. Ltd. in its annual statement for 1931. Gross revenue totalled $4,126,611. Interest on bonds outstanding for $2,051,000, transfer to sinking funds $839,986, and general expenses $129,350.

Preferred dividends totalling $324,000 were paid, leaving surplus carried forward of $185,615. Balance in profit and loss account is shown at $2,719,577.

Farmers in western Canada are being encouraged to breed a more suitable type of bacon hog for the British market, and splendid progress along this line has already been made at various experimental farms.

NEW RELIEF DIVISION URGED

Western Mayors Suggest Dominion Ease Burden on Municipalities

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 7.—A new allocation of the cost of unemployment relief as between the Dominion, provincial and municipal governments is needed, in the opinion of the mayors of cities in western Canada, who expressed their views in a conference here at the invitation of Mayor Ralph H. Webb of Winnipeg. While varied opinions were voiced on the matter, the city heads were unanimous in the view the municipalities were now called on to bear too heavy a burden.

A resolution passed at the session yesterday evening requested the Dominion Government to bear 100 per cent of the cost of relief for single men and 65 per cent of the cost for married men. The province's share of the latter would be 25 per cent and the municipality's share 10 per cent. At present the cost is equally divided between the three. The resolution requested an equal three-way division of the cost of administering relief to which the Dominion now contributes nothing.

MURPHY ATTENDS

An interested observer at the meeting was Hon. T. G. Murphy, Dominion Minister of the Interior. He made it clear he was not present in an official capacity, but merely to obtain the views of the mayors for the information of the Ottawa government.

Another resolution asks the federal government to appoint a commission to investigate the unemployment situation with a view to relieving "the already overburdened cities and municipalities."

Still another suggests a conference between mayors of western cities and the premiers of the four western provinces to work out a uniform relief programme. Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta was asked to call such a conference.

Mayor Webb presided at the conference and those attending were: Mayor McRae of Regina, Mayor Underwood of Saskatoon, Mayor Knott of Edmonton, Mayor Sharpe of Portage la Prairie, Mayor Robertson of The Pas, Alderman J. J. McRae, representing the mayor of Vancouver, and Reeve W. A. Pritchard of Burnaby, B.C.

KREUGER LOSS BIG IN SPECULATION

New York, July 7.—Evidence indicating that Ivar Kreuger, speculating in Kreuger & Toll American certificates, had nearly $800,000 in the eight months preceding his suicide in Paris last March, was brought out at a hearing yesterday before Henry K. Davis, special master.

It was also indicated some of his speculating was done through a secret account, of which even his brokers were unaware.

The evidence was produced by Jacob J. Javits, counsel for the petitioners for a United States receivership for the Kreuger & Toll Company.

No Word of World Fliers in Russia

Considerable concern was expressed over their fate by police, who said they could not understand why there had been no report of the fliers having been sighted at any point between here and Moscow, or why they had not reached their next goal.

The distance was covered by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, last year's round-the-world team, in a little less than nine hours. At noon to-day Mattern and Griffin had been gone from here fifteen hours.

STORMS REPORTED

The newspaper Zvezda uhr Blatt said its report indicated the fliers had faced unfavorable weather, with thunderstorms and rainstorms over Russia.

The sun had already set when they left here yesterday evening and reports, then indicated good weather for the 850-mile hop. The fliers then had a margin of nearly eleven hours over the time of Post and Gatty taking off from Berlin.

They had a brief delay here over postal regulations. The two fliers were carrying a letter each around the world with them as souvenirs and they wanted the stamp of the Berlin post office on them. A Templehof Airplane postal official informed them, however, to postmark the letter without stamping it.

So the fliers had to address the envelopes to themselves, buy stamps, push the letters through the little mailing window and wait for them to be mailed.

There was a possibility that the Century of Progress might have come down between Berlin and Moscow. The terrain in that area is not too rough for a successful emergency landing, but it is not thickly settled and communication would not be easy.

On the other hand, early reports said it was possible Mattern and Griffin had passed over Moscow in the night and driven on east toward Omsk, 1,600 miles farther along their route.

They had no fuel depot at Moscow because the quality obtainable there was not satisfactory. There was, however, a supply awaiting them at Omsk.

Mattern and Griffin left New York last Tuesday, stopped at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, and Berlin.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 7.—Women folks of Jimmie Mattern, smiling, but the fliers had to address the envelopes to themselves, buy stamps, push the letters through the little mailing window and wait for them to be mailed.

Reductions Must Be Made to Provide More Money For Relief

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 7.—Vancouver's 1932 budget, passed early last May, will have to be generally revised to meet mounting costs of relief and falling revenues of several departments.

The civic finance committee yesterday afternoon authorized Mayor Louis D. Taylor to appoint several aldermen to consider reduction of estimates of different departments to meet a budget deficiency in the neighborhood of $200,000.

When the budget was adopted by the council, $800,000 was allowed for relief costs, but, City Comptroller A. J. Pilkington warned the aldermen yesterday, at least $130,000 additional must be provided to meet the increasing costs of assistance to the unemployed.

On top of this, the city must provide about $50,000 to meet damage claims resulting from deaths of several persons who plunged over the Georgia Viaduct in a taxi. The city recently lost its final appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada on one claim amounting to $20,000 arising from that case.

Manchester Guardian Points to Opportunities of Ottawa Empire Assembly

Canadian Press
Manchester, Eng., July 7.—"The world will not have seen the like since the days when the Treaty of Versailles was hammered out at Paris," declared The Manchester Guardian today in discussing the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, scheduled to start July 21.

"Not that Ottawa has inherited the peaceful associations of Versailles, although it has something in common with it," The Manchester Guardian continued. "It is called, if not to end war, at least to arrange a truce on one particular battlefield."

"The war is world-wide and not less deadly because it is waged with the bloodless weapons of tariffs and quotas. We now have the chance to make a separate peace on the large, if limited, field of trade within the Empire."

"The Empire may have remained relatively free from the worst forms of national antagonism, but it has not escaped the poison of that spirit and it is for a demonstration above all a change of spirit that thoughtful people are looking to Ottawa."

Istanbul, July 7.—An invitation to join the League of Nations was accepted by Turkey at a special meeting of the National Assembly yesterday.

The invitation was received with enthusiasm by the Turkish government. Foreign Minister Tefik Rüşdi addressed the assembly before it accepted the proposal by a majority vote.

Turkey places no conditions on its entry.

SMITH SUPPORTS U.S. DEMOCRATS

But Does Not Say If He Will Take Stump For Roosevelt

Washington, July 7.—Expressions of pleasure without even a note of surprise continued today in Democratic discussions of Alfred E. Smith's announcement that he would support the party ticket and one of their number met criticism of the proposed presidential candidate with the statement that it was quite all right.

Meanwhile, the only formal emanation from the newly-opened Republican campaign headquarters in Chicago was an announcement by Everett Sanders, National Committee chairman, that Ogden L. Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, would begin his party's drive in a speech at Boston on Monday.

Vice-president Charles Curtis let it be known at Washington that he would be ready to stump the country again this year if the Republican council wanted him to do so.

In New York yesterday afternoon Alfred E. Smith said he would support the nominees of the United States Democratic Party. He expressed the opinion the formation of a third party would not be practical "at this time."

Mr. Smith amplified his previous statement in the affirmative just once to say his declaration of support for the Democratic Party included support for its presidential and vice-presidential nominees, neither of whom was mentioned by name in the statement.

His answers to all other inquiries were negative. He would not say whether he would "take the stump" for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket nor what he thought of the party's chances in November.

He denied he intended to run for Governor of New York State, and said his chief interest of the moment was to "get a little rest."

While Mr. Smith was clearing the political atmosphere, Roosevelt managers were making plans for a campaign unique in United States politics. They intend to start their four-month drive for votes in the rural sections and leave the campaign in metropolitan centres until the end.

TRADE AGENT
ENDS HIS LIFE

C. Noel Wilde, Canadian Commissioner, Shoots Himself in Mexico City

Mexico City, July 7.—Believed dependent over orders notifying him of his transfer to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, C. Noel Wilde, Canadian trade commissioner here, committed suicide yesterday evening by shooting himself with a revolver.

Wilde, who was fifty-seven, had been in this city for nearly five years and was Canada's only official representative here.

A native of England, he journeyed to Canada at an early age and for some time was engaged in the building of railroads. After his appointment as commissioner here his aunt came to live with him. She died about two years ago, leaving him a large fortune.

He was unmarried and lived alone with a Japanese servant in the fashionable San Angel suburb. Arrangements for the funeral were being made to-day by the British Legation.

Ottawa, July 7.—Officials of the trade and commerce department here expressed the utmost surprise to-day at the reason assigned for the suicide of C. Noel Wilde in Mexico City yesterday. The transfer of Mr. Wilde to Buenos Aires was under consideration, but this was regarded as a promotion, the Argentine capital being considered a much better and more important post than Mexico City.

Entering the service as assistant trade commissioner in 1921, Mr. Wilde first served in Buenos Aires for several years. His experience there had moved the department in Ottawa to consider returning him to Argentina.

He was fifty-seven years of age.

Pilot Lancaster
Faces Two Charges

Associated Press
Miami, Fla., July 7.—A United States Department of Labor warrant charging Capt. W. R. Lancaster, British pilot, with illegal entry into this country will be served after his trial on a charge of killing Haden Clark, fiancé of Lancaster's sister, yesterday.

Keith-Miller, it is announced. The trial is scheduled for July 26.

An immigration hearing for a Mr. Keith-Miller, arrested on a similar warrant June 22, is scheduled for August 1. She is alleged to have made false affidavits in connection with her status when entering this country on May 27, 1931.

KELLOGG URGES DISARMAMENT

Associated Press
Geneva, July 7.—H. Kellogg, co-author of the Kellogg-Briand Anti-war Pact and a justice of the World Court, urged support of the United States proposal for a one-third reduction of armaments at a dinner here yesterday evening.

Guest of the United States delegation to the World Disarmament Conference at the dinner, Mr. Kellogg talked personally with the chiefs of the other important delegations, urging the necessity of increasing security and peace by "genuine disarmament."

He previously had been given an ovation when he attended a session of the League of Nations Assembly as a spectator and was greeted with a cordial speech of appreciation by Paul Hymans, president of the session.

ARMS ATTEMPTS AT IRISH COAST

Canadian Press
Dublin, July 7.—President Eamon de Valera was bombarded with questions in the Dail Eireann yesterday evening over alleged attempts to land arms illegally on the coast of the Irish Free State. The President declared the government had taken all precautions the representations warranted.

The discussion ended with Patrick McGilligan, former Minister of External Affairs, declaring he was satisfied and would again raise the matter.

In reply to questions, Mr. de Valera declined to say whether the Free State had sought the collaboration of other governments or had received any offer of collaboration from "another government" to deal with the gun-running.

A member asked the President whether a boat had been searched for arms two weeks ago. Mr. de Valera said the step had been taken in accordance with "general precautions."

Declining to say whether boats had been searched at the authorities' request.

Unofficial reports some time ago said that vessels of the British navy were on the lookout for vessels reported to be attempting to land arms, probably for the illegal Republican army.

Grain Corporation
Wheat Holdings Down

Chicago, July 7.—The Farmers' National Grain Corporation reported yesterday that the cash wheat stocks of its marketing subsidiary, the Grain Stabilization Corporation, were, on July 1, less than enough to supply the United States average demands for three weeks.

Authorization by Congress for the American Red Cross to procure 45,000,000 additional bushels of farm board wheat for relief, George S. Milnor, president of the Grain Stabilization Corporation, said, has reduced the company's cash holdings to approximately 28,000,000 bushels.

"This is equivalent to less than three weeks' average consumption of wheat in the United States," Milnor said, "and it is, therefore, obvious that stabilization stocks are not now in any sense an important market factor."

U.S. PROHIBITION REPEAL OPPOSED

Associated Press
Indianapolis, July 7.—A platform containing declarations contrary to the stated beliefs of Senator W. E. Borah was adopted yesterday by the United States Prohibition Party's convention here over the objection of a group that has been besieging the Idaho statesman to accept the party's presidential nomination.

Foremost among the plans to which Senator Borah would object was one calling for adherence to the World Court. The Senator was a leader in the fight against entering the court in 1925 and occupies a position of authority now that the subject is again before the Senate.

The prohibition plank unequivocally opposes repeal or weakening of the Eighteenth Amendment and condemns the Republican and Democratic parties for "their present determination to repeal that amendment on the excuse that it cannot be enforced."

LITTLE GOLD FOR PROSPECTORS

Associated Press
Spokane, Wash., July 7.—First reports from the army of amateur prospectors who stampered from here a month ago told of real hope and blizzards, but little gold.

Several small pieces of placer gold were received by assayers to-day from prospectors. It was of good quality. Most of it is fine particles, with some minute nuggets.

Some of the yellow metal was found around Pierce City, Idaho, some in north Idaho, and some in the Republic region of northeastern Washington.

Big Storm Losses In Bavarian Town

Associated Press
Fussens, Germany, July 7.—A terrific cloudburst and hailstorm wrecked this South Bavarian holiday resort yesterday evening and to-day it had the appearance of a town that had been shelled.

Virtually all the roofs and windows were smashed by the huge hailstones and many inhabitants and visitors were forced temporarily to evacuate their living quarters. Crops throughout the area were wiped out.

A POPULAR CANDIDATE

THE LIBERALS OF SAANICH HAVE made no mistake in nominating Mr. Norman Whittaker to be their standard-bearer at the next provincial election. He has made a close study of public questions for many years and his election to the next Legislature would insure for Saanich an able and conscientious representative. He understands the requirements of the constituency and its interests would be in good hands.

Mr. Whittaker made a gallant fight in Saanich in the last provincial election. His opponent was Dr. Tolmie, who had been chosen leader of the Conservative party. Out of a total poll of 4,215, Mr. Whittaker polled 1,836. When the electors go to the polls in Saanich next time, however, they will have before them the unsatisfactory record of the government, and the outcome should reverse the conditions of 1928 as far as these two candidates are concerned.

"THE TRAP THAT JACK BUILT"

ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S WELL-KNOWN weekly journals recently published an article written by John T. Flynn as told to him by Henry R. Rainey, Democrat floor leader in the House of Representatives at Washington, from which it is possible to get a good idea of how the United States has, to use one of our own Canadian newspaper's description of tariff madness, killed the import goose which laid the export eggs.

It is shown how for the first time in the history of the republic the United States finds herself on the outside of her tariff walls looking in, instead of inside looking out and laughing at the world. The article traces the history of the various tariff bills—the Fordney-McCumber and the Hawley-Smoot measures—and enlarges upon the increasing difficulty other nations' goods have encountered in their efforts to get into the United States market.

The author acknowledges that even though people with whom the country traded were not permitted to pay with their own goods, "we sold them each year from half a billion to a billion dollars' worth of goods more than we bought from them." But the irony of this situation lies in the fact that United States bankers loaned the money in order to enable them to make payment—and the loans are still outstanding. Then we read:

Instead of dealing with this situation, we passed, in 1930, another tariff bill—the present Hawley-Smoot bill—the highest in the history of protective tariffs. It is the only tariff bill in our history which was passed without a public demand. When it was being debated thirty foreign nations protested—many warned us that they would have to take measures against us if it were passed. Of course, we sneered at that—the great United States would make its own tariff rates without consulting any other nation on earth.

But as soon as the Hawley-Smoot bill was passed these countries began to make good their threats. They proceeded to build their own tariff walls. The chief point in these foreign tariffs is that they are mainly directed at the United States. They are retaliatory tariffs.

Take South America, where our trade losses have been greatest. Our trucks formerly entered Argentina free. We sold her practically all she bought. She now puts a thirty-three per cent tax on them. Mexico got four-fifths of her wheat from us. She has increased her tariff on hard 100 per cent, on eggs twenty per cent, on peas fifty per cent, on corn, 500 per cent. These are aimed at us.

In Europe everywhere tariff barriers are raised against our traders. Spain makes no automobiles. So last year she lowered her duties on automobiles sixty per cent to all the world save the United States. We cannot now sell an automobile in Spain. France uses tariffs, but she has also employed extensively another more deadly trade weapon—the quota system. She assigns to various countries an allotted percentage of imports which they may supply. The American Chamber of Commerce in Paris on February 10 declared that if the quota system continued in France representatives of American firms in Paris might as well close up their offices and go home.

Now comes the most serious threat of all. Great Britain, after ninety years of free trade, goes over to the protective system. She has adopted her tariffs chiefly as a weapon to be used to bargain with other nations. She will attempt to create a vast world area of low-tariff nations which will be able to trade among themselves with comparative freedom. Outside—and we will be on the outside—will be another group of nations surrounded with almost impassable tariff walls. The world will be literally divided into two trade camps—low tariff and high tariff. And we will be in the high-tariff group.

Ten American factories have moved into Canada in the last two months. An English newspaper reports that forty American plants are now negotiating for space in Manchester.

What is the way out? Hopeless as it may seem, there is a way out. First we must put an end to the policy of tariff boosting. Next we must put an end to the making of "most-favored nation" treaties designed to kill off reciprocity. Finally, we must summon other nations to sit with us in an international economic conference or council and see if, by a policy of give and take, we cannot make a beginning of lowering, along the frontiers of all the nations of the world, the inopportune walls which now shut out trade, intercourse, goodwill and good understanding.

It is the old story of the vicious circle. One of these days perhaps the governments of the world will wake up and realize that their stupid and costly tariff policy must end.

THE "HAPPY WARRIOR" AGAIN

ALFRED E. SMITH HAS ANNOUNCED that he will support the Democrat party's nominees for president and vice-president. This has cleared up the political air in the republic and means a united party behind Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner. Presumably the "happy warrior" of New York will campaign on behalf of his party's standard bearers.

As governor of the state of New York, Mr. Smith made an enviable reputation for himself. The voice of scandal has never been heard against him, while his rise from humble beginnings to an influential national figure is one of the most interesting romances of United States public life.

Not in the last decade have the Democrats had such bright prospects for success as they have this year. With a united party, as now seems to be assured, they should have no difficulty in winning. These are bad times for most governments appealing for endorsement. Our neighbors elected the Republicans in the belief they were "pegging" prosperity. But a three-billion-dollar deficit, an unemployed list of more than ten millions, and an external trade nearly cut in half, constitute a heavy burden for Mr. Hoover to carry around with him until next November.

GRAND OPERA AND ITS "ANGELS"

ONE OF THE UNFORTUNATE RE-sults of Samuel Insull's financial crash is the closing of Chicago's magnificent new opera house. This theatre is among the most beautiful and costly on earth. Insull gave it to Chicago. He was the "angel" on whom the opera company could always rely for funds to meet a deficit that might arise during a season.

Now Insull is broke—so Chicago will have no opera. The singers have been dismissed, a $500,000 deficit left over from the 1932 season is still unpaid and people are wondering what is to be done about the huge mortgage which hangs over the opera house—a matter of about $17,000,000.

Judging solely by this, one would be forced to the conclusion that grand opera in the United States is strictly a rich man's plaything—a form of art that can not possibly pay its way and that exists, when it exists at all, only because the wealthy can be induced to subsidize it. If that were true, the outlook for grand opera would be very dark indeed. But it just happens that other cities of the world have shown that opera can stand on its own legs if it is stripped of some of its fancy frills.

TARIFF NOT WORKING WELL?

WHEN GREAT BRITAIN WENT INTO the tariff business a good deal was written about the benefits she would quickly derive. These Board of Trade figures are self-explanatory:

	Imports	Total exports
May, 1932	£55,705,344	£34,595,524
April, 1932	£54,487,187	£33,422,028
May, 1931	£69,628,484	£39,642,284

Here are the principal exports for May of this year compared with May of 1931:

	Value May, 1932	Value May, 1931
Iron and steel	£2,221,203	£2,500,628
Machinery	£449,720	£279,859
Cotton goods	£596,555	£519,195
Woolen goods	£1,224,246	£1,640,518
Other textiles	£1,141,408	£1,091,886
Chemicals	£1,654,063	£1,728,879
Vehicles	£1,833,778	£4,393,298

It will be seen that only in the textile industry does May show a gain this year over last!

THE CONVERSION LOAN

FOLLOWING THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the two-billion pound conversion loan from London have come optimistic declarations that Great Britain has definitely turned the economic corner and is now on the way to much better times.

Canadian holders of the bonds of this issue were somewhat disturbed when the announcement was first made. Several inquiries at the office of this newspaper suggested the idea prevailed that conversion meant cutting the five per cent which the bonds yield to three and one-half per cent, without any reference to the holders. This is not the case at all. Holders may turn in their bonds and realize their full cash value, or they can convert them and draw three and one-half per cent instead of five per cent.

By accepting cash, of course, the holder who desires to keep his money working must look for other forms of investment if he wants to get five per cent or more. But as the Bank of England has dropped its discount rate to two per cent it is taken for granted that general interest rates will be kept down until the conversion loan has gone through.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

Canadian Banks
The Mail and Empire

Commerce and Finance, a weekly newspaper published in New York, contains in its issue of June 1 a flattering description of Canada's banking system under the suggestive title, "Where Banks Do Not Fail." It concludes that the proven soundness of our banking system during the present financial and economic unsettlement furnishes reason for believing that the Dominion will be in the van of the next forward surge of general business.

NATIONAL EXTRAVAGANCE
The Detroit News

False notions die hard. The outcry is persistent, "Sell more bonds; borrow millions, billions." And if the necessity of paying some time is mentioned, the reply is that when prosperity comes back it will be easy to pay. It is worse than foolish to predict that when prosperity returns there will be money to retire all obligations. There will be no money to pay public debts but tax money, and the prospect of heaping taxes upon taxes to pay for investments that bring no return does not brighten the outlook.

WHY PASSPORTS?
The Hamilton Spectator

In connection with the forthcoming Imperial Conference in Ottawa, discussion is being revived as to the possibility of removing the necessity for passports for British citizens passing from one country within the Empire to another. The only excuse for them is the necessity of the governments to obtain a little extra revenue. But should that excuse prevail for ever? During the war there were good reasons why this requirement should have been rigidly enforced, but in these times of peace and Imperial goodwill there are even better reasons why the irksome imposition should be abolished. By every means it is desirable to encourage, instead of hamper, an interchange of visits between British citizens.

A HEADACHE.

THE "ELEVENTH HOUR" CONVERSION

To the Editor:—Please allow these few lines to be published. They may prove to be a comfort to bereaved ones and lead some out of darkness into Christ's marvelous light.

We hear occasionally of the last hour repentance of some one whose life is known to have been anything but saintly; we are inclined to have little or no faith in such a conversion. How good it is therefore, that the judging of such, as well as all other cases, is left entirely to the All-wise and Omnipotent God.

God's Word supplies us with ample proof that "He is able to save to the uttermost" (perhaps for the first time through Christ, who ever liveth to make intercession for them).

Surely, the salvation of the dying thief on the cross is an outstanding example and proof that "where sin abounded, grace did much more abound." A common remark is that the low vitality of a dying person affects his mental powers, whereby his behavior and utterances become abnormal.

A sane attitude to take would be that he is abnormal indeed, who, while enjoying health and strength and having the full use of his mental faculties, claims that death ends all and refuses to admit that when his body will have to meet some day, somehow, his Creator, even though he sneers at death-bed conversions.

We firmly believe that a man is really normal (perhaps for the first time in his life) when having come to the end of life's journey, he is brought face to face with the stern reality of death, and he is able to enter joyfully "within the veil" confessing with his last earthly breath: "Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;

Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;
Change and decay in all around I see;
O Thou, Who changest not, abide with me!

"Be Thou Thyself before my closing eyes;
Shine through the gloom, and point me to the skies.
Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee;
In life, in death, O Lord, abide with me!"

NATIONAL COUNCIL'S PLATFORM

To the Editor:—The National Council of Canada are somewhat flattered by the fact that on two occasions within the last week they have been the principal topic in the political speeches of the leader of the Liberal party and of Mr. Whittaker, the Liberal candidate for Saanich.

It is obvious that when these party leaders almost wholly ignore the Conservative opposition they are beginning to realize that the fight in the next election in all ridings will be between an independent Conservative sponsored by the National Council of Canada and the Liberal party. Mr. Whittaker possibly realized, too, that the enthusiasm with which he and his party are being greeted by the people of Saanich indicates that the inroad made by the National Council organization in that district renders his success at an election probable.

Mr. Whittaker is reported as having criticized the platform of the National Council with regard to the question of unemployment. It seems rather amusing that Mr. Whittaker, who is nominated as the standard bearer in Saanich of a party which has no policy or principle, should criticize the National Councils. The platform to which he referred in his speech is a tentative platform prepared at the request of persons throughout the province to furnish a general idea of the proposals of these councils and is subject to discussion at a convention to be held in the city of Vancouver in the month of August.

Of course, the National Councils are not dictated to by any political machine and have the right to have incorporated in the platform, subject to majority approval, any sensible plank which he may suggest. But the National Councils feel that promises, such as the Liberal and Conservative parties, have submitted to the people in past elections have been unfulfilled with such unflinching regularity that the public fully realizes to-day that the platforms of party politicians are very unsafe structures.

The National Councils of Canada are aiming at two things: (1) Economy in the expenditure of government of a population less in size than that of the average large city, a costly structure of government built up as a result largely of the patronage excesses of Mr. Whittaker's party when a County Council would suffice; and

(2) a change in the present economic structure so as to insure to every man, woman, and child in British Columbia some measure at least of the ordinary necessities and simple luxuries of life.

Prominent members of the National Council of Canada have, since the appearance in the press of the report of Mr. Whittaker's speech, expressed a desire to meet Mr. Whittaker or his leader, Mr. Pettullo, at a hall to be engaged by this organization either in Saanich or Victoria in order to debate all the matters raised by Mr. Whittaker's speech. Mr. Pettullo in their second speech, this, no doubt, would provide an excellent opportunity for Mr. Whittaker to try to convey to the people of Saanich that he and his party if returned to office would make a better list of it next time than they have done when previously in power. YOUTH FREED BY BANDITS

H. Bohn, Son of St. Paul, Minn., Manufacturer Held For Week By Abductors

Associated Press

Minneapolis, July 7.—Haskell Bohn, twenty years old, son of a St. Paul manufacturer, missing since last Thursday when he was reported seized by two men, was found at a lake resort near here yesterday evening. Bohn said he had just been released by his captors.

This development followed reports from Crookston, Minn., that Jack Thompson, alias Roy White, of Tulsa, Okla., had looked for that Bohn was being held at a farm home near Emerson, Manitoba.

Police of St. Paul expressed belief Thompson was not one of the men sought for the Bohn affair.

When Bohn was seized by the two men at the garage of the home of his father, Gebhard Bohn, note was left with the family demanding $25,000 for the youth's safe return. Later the amount was reduced to $5,000.

PRICE WAR ON IN EXPORT COPPER

New York, July 7.—A miniature price war continues in the export copper market as an outcome of the recent withdrawal of several members from Copper Exporters Inc., copper trade interests said to-day.

It was reported that producers who quit the foreign selling body have continued this week to sell copper at five cents a pound abroad. This is the lowest price in history and a figure which the copper trade says means little or no profit to the sellers.

The Belgian Katanga Company is said to have been the first to offer metal at this price, which was promptly met by the other retiring members. It is understood that only a small amount of metal is being sold in the foreign market and the trade is disposed to expect a new agreement shortly which will ease up the present highly competitive conditions.

Copper buying continues very light in the domestic market, though some selling agents said it is running better than last week.

Halifax Senator Is Recovering

The Bank of Brazil started buying exchange bills in Reichsmarks to pay for the coal purchases.

The National Coffee Council, however, denied reports that coffee had been exchanged for the coal.

PLAN CHANGES IN SERVICES

Trustee V. Emery Tells Labor Council of Medical and Dental Probe

Trustee Victor Emery, who initiated the move for a survey of the medical and dental services in the city schools to determine their value, informed the Trades and Labor Council yesterday evening that this investigation had been completed.

The survey, he said, was in the nature of a compromise, following his attempt to dispense with the services of the school doctor, which was unsuccessful.

In the report, he indicated, several changes would be recommended to improve the medical service. Trustee Emery said he thought the service was not practical enough and the investigation had shown it was purely preventive. The doctor had taken the stand that to perform minor operations or do any practical medical work might incur liability upon the school board.

Alterations in the dental service would also be recommended, he said, although this was much more practical than the medical department. He did not reveal what changes were planned. The two departments cost the city $12,000 annually, he said, and in his opinion the expenditure was not justified by the service given.

War Veterans Hold Annual
Tag Day to Maintain
Clubrooms

Energetic members of the women's auxiliary are working hard to make a success of the annual tag day of the Tuberculosis Veterans' Association which will be held on Saturday.

With no canteen from which to derive revenue the association virtually relies upon the proceeds of the tag day to maintain its club quarters. The club fills a much-needed need, for many of the single men who belong to the association who are without homes beyond the rented rooms in which they sleep. The association also provides comforts for members who are sick and helps them in the adjustment of pension cases. It is to continue these services that the annual appeal to the public, through a tag day, is made.

The conveners of the tag day are Mrs. R. S. Standenwick and Mrs. A. Booth. Mrs. Cookman will be in charge of refreshments for the taggers. The taggers will also help by supplying taggers, but more are needed. Those willing to help are asked to telephone Mrs. Booth, G5089, or Mrs. Standenwick, G7529. Headquarters during the tag day will be at Hatt's Hall.

LEGION FAVORS EMPIRE TRADE

Would Solve Unemployment
Problem, Says Cowichan
Branch

Special to The Times
Duncan, July 7.—Cowichan branch of the Canadian Legion on Monday evening recorded the opinion that the Imperial Economic Conference offers Canada a way out of the unemployment situation.

The following resolution was moved by Dennis Ashby and seconded by K. F. Duncan and ordered to be forwarded to the provincial command for transmission to the government at Ottawa: "Whereas, representatives of the British Government and of the governments of the Dominions will meet in Ottawa this month to discuss reciprocal trade within the Empire, and whereas, Canada produces primary products similar to those imported in large quantities by Great Britain and other parts of the Empire, and if Canada could supply a substantial part of these imports, a revival of prosperity would immediately follow:

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Canadian Legion urge the Dominion Government to do everything in its power to make a reciprocal trade arrangement with the British Government by granting generous concessions in admitting British goods into Canada in return for preferences in marketing our wheat, lumber and other primary products in Great Britain, and to open the door for mutual trade with the rest of the Empire."

"The opinion of the members of the Canadian Legion the Imperial Economic Conference offers Canada a golden opportunity, and unless advantage is taken of this opportunity, we see no prospect of a solution of the present unemployment situation in Canada."

The annual sports will again be held on Labor Day. C. L. Stephenson, A. J. Castle and M. A. Kinch were named to meet the entertainment committee and arrange for the sports and dance.

J. LeQuenne was asked to arrange an outing and picnic on some Sunday in the near future. This will probably be a launch trip to a neighboring island. A donation was made towards the Boy Scouts' camp.

Cowichan district will be represented at the reunion of ex-service men to be held at Nanaimo on August 4.

Big Power Group Now Disintegrating

New York, July 7.—Partial disintegration of a large utility holding group is likely next week with the sale at auction of collateral for a $3,000,000 loan of the National Electric Power Co. of the Insull chain.

The two principal holding companies of the National Electric power group passed into receivership a few days ago. The move for the forced sale is in connection with a loan for the amount made by the New York Trust Co. on collateral of several of the underlying companies.

The securities to be sold consist principally of common shares of the Penn Central Light & Power Co. and of the Michigan Electric Power Co.

JUDGE TIRED OF LONG TESTIMONY

Associated Press

Los Angeles, Cal., July 7.—Irrked at what he termed unreasonable delay, Superior Judge Lester Roth told attorney Eugene Eben, radio organist, was the first witness called for today.

ENTERTAINED INMATES

On Tuesday evening at the Aged Ladies' Home Lodge Primrose D.O.E. choir gave a concert, those taking part being S. Hall, solos; S. Holt, accompaniment; Dorothy Alexander, tap dances; S. Chappell, recitations; selections by the choir and a comical farce entitled "Hold Your Best," by the choir members. Ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. Cave presided and Mrs. McKenzie made the closing remarks which were responded to by Mrs. Chappell. The singing of "They are Jolly Good Fellows" by the staff and ladies brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

ALFRESCO FETE ASSISTS CHURCH

Bishop Murray Performed Opening Ceremony at Esquimalt Yesterday

Bishop Murray performed the opening ceremony of the very successful alfresco fete held yesterday afternoon and evening in the grounds of the Esquimalt Sub-division of the Catholic Women's League. A very large number of guests were present for the opening ceremony at 3 o'clock, and throughout the afternoon and evening Rev. Father Wood and Mrs. Matthew Page, president of the sub-division, acted as a reception committee.

Flags and gaily decorated booths, representing the handicraft of soldiers and sailors from Esquimalt Barracks, lent a festive air to the animated scene which greeted the bishop on his arrival. He complimented the sub-division upon its splendidly arranged and wished it success in all its undertakings. During the afternoon a musical programme by Rowley's Boys' Band was much enjoyed, and in the evening games and competitions attracted many patrons.

ATTRACTION STALLS

The building fund of the church will benefit substantially from the affair, the proceeds of the various stalls adding materially to the total. These included a fancywork stall in charge of Mrs. H. Richmond and Mrs. J. E. MacDonald; candy was sold by Mrs. Shelling and Mrs. G. Hutchinson. The soft drinks and ice cream were directed by Mrs. R. A. Duncan, assisted by Mrs. Burt; coconut shy was managed by Mr. MacDonnell and Mr. Jack O'Leary, while bingo proved quite amusing under the care of Mr. Smith. The home-cooking table, supervised by Mrs. H. Fair and Mrs. G. Hutchinson, was sold out early in the day. A Mother Goose booth was quite a novel affair, convened by Miss Marguerite Dougal. A fortune wheel was in charge of Master Charles Lugen and Thomas Fair. Tea and supper was served in the dining-room by Mrs. E. A. Dugal, who was assisted by Mrs. J. N. Matheson, Mrs. G. O'Leary and Mrs. Woods, while Miss Betty O'Leary and Miss Evangeline Potts assisted with the serving. Mrs. Orme was quite popular with her ringing of tescups. The large table was pretty with flowers in colors of yellow, mauve and white, smaller tables being arrayed similarly. Crepe paper also added to the decorations.

Winners of the tombola prizes were: Mrs. J. Stobart, 511 Macaulay Street, ticket 1647, cheque for $20; Mrs. J. Stobart, 511 Macaulay Street, ticket 1647, cheque for $20; Mrs. J. Stobart, 511 Macaulay Street, ticket 1647, cheque for $20.

1971, permanent wave; Mrs. G. Moody, Craigflower Road, electric iron, ticket 217; Mrs. J. Smith, 1317 Arm Street, ticket 1982; H. Nutting, 1170 Chapman Street, half gallon Satin-Glo varnish, No. 1440; Mrs. F. C. Hurry, 888 Front Street, shower spray, No. 1933; Mrs. A. S. Salmon, 238 Edward Street, fancy stationery, No. 1307; M. Allen, Signal Hill, load of wood, ticket 1756; Mrs. E. Wylie, 517 Joffre Street, half cord kindling, No. 1874; Mary Small, 447 Constance Avenue, 1,000 shingles, No. 1181; Mrs. Mendenham, Anderson Avenue, 1331, pocket knife, special prize; Baby suit, Mrs. G. A. Salmon, 238 Edward Street, 472 runner, Miss Louise MacDonald, 628 Head Street, 442; box of candy, Bishop Murray; fruit cake, Mrs. White, Head Street, No. 18; box of Fairfield Road, and Miss Vida Shandley.

Among the Victorians who are spending a few weeks at Shawinigan Lake are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shandley, Fairfield Road, and Miss Vida Shandley.

Mrs. Charles Richards, Simcoe Street, who has been spending the last few weeks visiting with relatives in Williams Lake and in Kamloops, has returned to her home in Victoria.

Mrs. Donald Bradley of Vancouver, accompanied by her small son Master Donald Bradley, is visiting in Victoria as the guest of her mother, Mrs. H. J. Dawson, Denison Road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Long and family, Chemainus, are visiting in Victoria for a short time and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Murray, Richardson Street.

Mrs. C. E. Henderson of the Uplands, who has been spending a few days at the annual summer camp at the lake of the Seven Hills with members of the Vancouver Island Branch of the Alpine Club in Canada, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Edward Smith, of Chicago and New York, announce the engagement of their daughter, Natalie, to a Leslie Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Philip Robinson, of Victoria.

Mrs. Isabel McTavish of Vancouver, who was in Victoria as a guest at the convention of the Delta Gamma convention and who has been staying with Mrs. Edward White, Michigan Street, for a few days, has returned to her home on the mainland.

His Honor Judge Lampman and Mrs. Lampman will leave on Saturday for their country home at Shawinigan Lake to spend the remainder of the summer there and while they are at the lake, their home in the Uplands will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Krenetz of Jersey City, New York.

Dr. M. P. Newell of Edmonton, and his daughter, Miss Frances Newell, who were here for the Delta Gamma convention, left Vancouver yesterday by motor on their return to Edmonton. In their honor, Miss Isabel Forin was a tea hostess in Vancouver on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Smellie, supervisor of the Victorian Order of Nurses, left yesterday for Vancouver en route for her headquarters in Ottawa, after making a one-day visit to the local branch. Miss Smellie has been on an unofficial tour of the west after an interval of two years.

Mr. A. McKeown, Cambridge Street, who has been visiting in Vancouver, has returned to his home in Victoria. Mrs. McKeown, who has also been visiting in Vancouver with Mr. McKeown, is remaining here for a longer visit with her daughters, Mr. F. R. Gow and Mrs. J. Scott.

Miss Sophy Elliott, of Montreal, national corresponding secretary and treasurer of the Canadian Women's Press Club, is spending a week or ten days as guest at Sooke Harbor House, Sooke, B.C., with Mrs. Elliott, who attended the triennial convention held recently at Calgary, will later proceed to Jasper Park en route to Montreal, returning home the latter part of July.

WON SCOTCH DANCING CUP

Miss N. Ferguson Awarded Championship Honors at Caledonia Games

A notable success was obtained by Miss N. Ferguson, well-known Scottish dancer, at the recent Caledonia games at Hastings Park, Vancouver, when she won the G. B. Allan cup for the grand aggregate in open (professional and amateur) dancing. She also secured several valuable cash prizes in other classes, in addition to the championship honors.

Miss Ferguson's positions in the five dancing events in which she competed at the Hastings Park gathering last week were as follows: Highland Fling, first; Seann Triubhach, first; sashon's hornpipe, fourth; Irish jig, second; Reel of Tulloch, third.

One Miss Ferguson's pupils, Maryann Peterson, young Victoria girl, on the same occasion won the gold medal for the grand aggregate in amateur dancing under twelve. This also carries the Coast championship honors. Maryann won three medals in four events, the first prize in the sword dance, the first medal in the Reel of Tulloch (gold medal), and a silver medal for the Highland Fling.

Miss Nancy Ferguson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson, 1206 Douglas Street.

Former German Court Pianiste Dies In Holland

Mme. Nathalie Janotha, formerly a famous pianiste, and who was deported from England during the war because of her friendship with the Kaiser, died at The Hague, Holland, at the age of seventy-six years.

Mme. Janotha lived in London for many years, and was always a welcome guest at the Court where both Queen Victoria and Queen Alexandra held her in high esteem. On the Continent she was widely known as the Court pianiste to the ex-Kaiser.

She was born in Warsaw. At her first performance in Berlin when a student she was handed to the platform by Count von Moltke.

Almost as famous as Mme. Janotha herself in her early days was her black cat White Heather, which travelled all over the world with her and appeared with her in almost every photograph and painting up to its death in 1904.

Mme. Janotha was so grieved at the loss of her pet—in which, some said, she believed, there dwelt the soul of a certain great saint—that for a time her playing suffered.

Rocky Mountain Resorts Mecca For Newly-weds; Season's Peak Reached

Banff, July 7.—This Canadian resort in the heart of the Canadian Rockies continues to enjoy its fame this year as a Mecca for honeymooners. Amongst recent newlyweds who have registered at the Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise during the past week are: Mr. and Mrs. C. Runcie Clements of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Furs of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rowland of Hanover, Mass.; and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Albrecht, St. Louis.

Trail riding, golfing, bathing and other sports occupied their days as they did the many other guests' time. With the peak of the season reached, registrations for lengthy stays are prevalent and many guests whose summer vacations have been spent here for several consecutive seasons are arriving daily.

Miss Ida P. Braun, New York City, and Miss I. L. C. and Miss L. Gooding of Summit, N.J., are amongst the latest arrivals and they will spend approximately five to six weeks in the Rockies. Miss E. V. Lemke of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., is making a visit of indefinite length.

Great interest centres on the approaching Willingdon Cup golf week scheduled for the week of July 19 to 23 and played on the Banff Springs golf course for the trophy presented by the present Viceroy of India: on Calgary Stampede, July 11 to 16, when all the spectacular glory of the old west will be revived at Calgary, eighty-five miles from the Banff Springs Hotel, and on the annual official trail ride of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies which will be held to Mount Assiniboia the end of the month.

PERSONAL

Mr. G. Robbins of Bay Street, and his daughters, have left for a motor trip to Vancouver and Seattle.

Miss Kathleen H. Hughes, Moose Jaw, is spending a fortnight in Victoria and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Barnes, 2089 Granite Street, Oak Bay.

Miss Jean Fletcher has returned to Victoria to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fletcher, Heywood Avenue, after attending school at Revelstoke, B.C.

Mrs. Charles Tupper of Vernon, who has been the guest of Lady Tupper in Vancouver for a few days, has arrived to the city to visit her mother, Mrs. A. R. Dickey.

Mrs. Walter Burton entertained yesterday afternoon at the tea hour at her home on St. Charles Street and again this afternoon was hostess at a similar party.

Among the Victorians who are spending a few weeks at Shawinigan Lake are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shandley, Fairfield Road, and Miss Vida Shandley.

HONEYMOONERS ENJOY BANFF

Rocky Mountain Resorts Mecca For Newly-weds; Season's Peak Reached

Banff, July 7.—This Canadian resort in the heart of the Canadian Rockies continues to enjoy its fame this year as a Mecca for honeymooners. Amongst recent newlyweds who have registered at the Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise during the past week are: Mr. and Mrs. C. Runcie Clements of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Furs of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rowland of Hanover, Mass.; and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Albrecht, St. Louis.

Trail riding, golfing, bathing and other sports occupied their days as they did the many other guests' time. With the peak of the season reached, registrations for lengthy stays are prevalent and many guests whose summer vacations have been spent here for several consecutive seasons are arriving daily.

Miss Ida P. Braun, New York City, and Miss I. L. C. and Miss L. Gooding of Summit, N.J., are amongst the latest arrivals and they will spend approximately five to six weeks in the Rockies. Miss E. V. Lemke of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., is making a visit of indefinite length.

Great interest centres on the approaching Willingdon Cup golf week scheduled for the week of July 19 to 23 and played on the Banff Springs golf course for the trophy presented by the present Viceroy of India: on Calgary Stampede, July 11 to 16, when all the spectacular glory of the old west will be revived at Calgary, eighty-five miles from the Banff Springs Hotel, and on the annual official trail ride of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies which will be held to Mount Assiniboia the end of the month.

LILIES PRESENT
LOVELY SIGHT

Annual Garden Fete at Wrentham Farm Yesterday Draws Big Crowd

With over 43,000 lilies lifting their graceful heads to the sunshine and scenting the air with their intoxicating sweetness, the garden party held at Wrentham Lily Farm yesterday afternoon drew over 300 guests, who revelled in the unforgettable beauty of the scene. Held annually under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the combined parishes of St. Stephen's and St. Mary's, Sanich-ton, the affair is one of the most delightful of the alfresco fete of the summer, and many visitors to the city, as well as members of other parishes on the island, avail themselves of the hospitality of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Taylor.

The stately Regal, tiger, Wilmutiae and other Asiatic varieties of lily constitute a superb display, while the rare rock plants also repay a visit. Tea was served at tables arranged on the wide veranda or in the shade of the trees on the lawn. The general details were admirably organized under the convener'ship of Mrs. J. S. A. Bastin, Mrs. D. Hodgson (treasurer) and Mrs. E. Rochon (secretary). The convener of the tea arrangements, very efficiently carried out, was Mrs. H. R. Gale; the sale of lily blooms was in charge of Mrs. J. C. Butterfield, and Mrs. Frank Greenstead was at the receipt of custom. Mr. Stone had charge of an interesting contest to guess the exact number of lilies in bloom.

H. FLOYD DIES
IN VANCOUVER

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 7.—Henry Floyd, aged sixty, East Boulevard, former municipal clerk and controller of the municipality of Point Grey, died yesterday evening in the Vancouver General Hospital following a week's illness.

He was well known in Point Grey, having resided there for many years. On amalgamation of the municipality with Vancouver three years ago he was transferred to the auditor's department at the city hall. Shortly after he was superannuated.

He is survived by a widow, one daughter and two sons. He was a native of England.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The only child and her young and companionable mother offer material for several problems. The baby ought to learn to play by herself and not be constantly dependent upon the presence of the mother. The baby has to be given more or less liberty as the confines of a playpen grow monotonous. The outdoors, where space and liberty are available, furnishes unknown dangers which keep the mother's attention fastened on the baby.

DEPENDENCE
All of these situations are to be found in many homes. If the baby is constantly under the eye of the mother, she is apt to turn to that beaming eye for approval and inspiration for her amusements. In the end this builds up a supreme dependence upon the older person that makes it impossible for the baby to be happy unless right with the mother. The mother whose baby screams herself hoarse the moment she is out of sight is the victim of just such a situation. Playpens do serve an extremely useful purpose in keeping the child from being harmed, or from getting into mischief while the maternal attention is focussed elsewhere. But active children get tired of being cooped up in a playpen and should have relief from it.

KEEPING BABY AMUSED
Mrs. G. M. thinks many young mothers would appreciate a discussion of the problem of the young, only child, who is, by very nature, a "loneline," somewhat of a problem to manage wisely.

"My baby is sixteen months old," she explains, "and is a happy, healthy baby. Our home is small and there is hardly a corner any of us can claim as our own. The biggest problem is how she can be supplied with an interesting amusement that will give me free to do my work. Much as I love to play with her, the ironing, the dishes, the housework in general have to be considered. Then, too, I know she must learn to play alone. In an article of yours not long ago you spoke of a few well-chosen toys, and I would like to know what those are."

"Her playpen gets too confining for her sturdy little legs and you cannot blame her for hating it. Could I turn her out, without anyone to watch her, in an enclosed yard? I know lots of young mothers who will be glad for some ideas on how to meet this problem."

WHERE TO PLAY
When baby gets too old to be comfortable and happy in a playpen, it is usually satisfactory to clear one corner of either the living-room or bedroom, manufacture some temporary enclosure for it, and put the baby's small table, chair and toys inside of that. My list of toys for children of various ages may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it. Make your own choice of toys suitable for a sixteen-month-old child.

If the front porch can be inclosed, that is a safe place for baby to play. If the yard is fenced in and baby has no propensity for picking up unsuitable objects, then she ought to be perfectly safe out there. Happy is the baby who has freedom to run about from object to object, playing with one for a moment and dropping it for a new attraction. There need not be so many toys as to be confusing and tiring, but there should be sufficient to create a new interest when the old one dies a quick death, as is perfectly natural with the small child. Things to carry about, to drag about, and to ride on are the standard amusement producers for the child this age. And this sort of toy demands room for its manipulation, so that the yard would seem to be a solution for your problem.

SOCIETY "DEBS"
IN TABLEAUX

Noted London Beauties Depict Famous French Paintings

Many well-known society debutantes appeared in the brilliant matinee which was staged at His Majesty's Theatre, London, on Tuesday in aid of charities, when a series of tableaux was staged reproducing some of the famous pictures shown at the Royal Academy at the great exhibition of French art this spring.

The late Lord Birkenhead's daughter, Lady Pamela Smith, was posed as Gerard's "Madame Recamier." Miss Penelope Dudley Ward appeared as the dainty figure in Fragonard's exquisite "The Swing," and Lady Joan Hope, Lady Georgina Curzon, and Lady Susan Egerton helped to make up the lovely Lancret picture, "The Artist's Daughter."

Edward Knoblock, the author and playwright, appeared as the bearded gentleman in Rembrandt's famous "La Loge," with Miss Gladys Cooper as the middle-aged woman in the theatre box in the picture.

Miss Olga Lynn, the actress, was responsible for the matinee, which was arranged in aid of the Princess Beatrice Hospital and the Papworth Hospital and village settlement.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

SAUCES VARY TASTE OF ICE CREAM

By SISTER MARY
Ice cream is a favorite dessert at any time of year, but we all have a special craving for its cool deliciousness when the hot summer days come. There are many attractive ways of serving it, but none more popular than with a sauce.

A plain vanilla cream is preferred by many mothers for children. If the vanilla cream is served with a sauce for the grown-up members of the family the dessert is suitable for young and old alike.

Another pleasant way to vary an ice cream and cake dessert is to serve sandwich fashion, putting ice cream between and on top of two thin slices of sponge cake. Cup cakes can be hollowed out and filled with ice cream and a sauce poured over the whole. About two or three cups of ice cream can be served with one cup of sponge cake. Sauce is also poured over the ice cream sandwich.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE
Chocolate sauce always is popular and the following recipe is excellent: One and one-half cups milk, three-quarters cup sugar, two square bitter chocolate, one tablespoon cornstarch, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla.

Cut chocolate into small pieces and put in top of double boiler. Put over hot water until melted and stir in sugar mixed and sifted with cornstarch. Be sure the cornstarch and sugar are well mixed. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Cook over hot water until thick. It will be about twenty minutes. When ready to serve, add vanilla and beat well with a dower beater.

This sauce is not too rich for children.

CARAMEL SAUCE
Caramel sauce is rich but delicious. It keeps well in a cold place and can be reheated when wanted.

One cup light brown sugar, 1-3 cup granulated sugar, 4 tablespoons corn syrup, 1 cup heavy cream, few grains salt, 1-3 cup boiling water.

Cook sugar, corn syrup and salt with water over a low fire until a firm but pliable ball is formed when a few drops are tried in cold water. If you use a candy thermometer it should register 241 degrees F. Stir until the mixture begins to boil and then cook without stirring. Remove from fire and let cool a few minutes. The mixture should be more than lukewarm, but not unbearably hot. Stir in cream and serve.

line in heating the sugar before adding it to the fruit. For strawberry sauce, use one quart berries, 2-3 cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Wash and hull berries. Crush with a potato masher and add sugar which has been heated in a cool oven. Add lemon juice and bring to the boiling point. Remove at once from the fire and let cool before serving. The hot sugar dissolves quickly and the fruit retains its fresh flavor. The addition of lemon juice intensifies the red of the fruit.

All small fruits can be treated this way. Pineapple sauce is made by adding two or three tablespoons sugar to one cup pineapple juice drained from canned crushed pineapple. Cook juice until reduced one-half and add crushed fruit. Let stand until cool before serving.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast—Grape fruit juice, cereal cooked with dates, cream, crisp oven toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Tomato croquettes, whole wheat rolls, strawberries with sugar and cream, hermita, milk, tea.
Dinner—Vegetable plate of broccoli, buttered leeks on toast, baked Jerusalem artichokes, green beans and carrots in cream, ice cream sandwiches with chocolate sauce, milk, coffee.

NANAIMO NOTES

Nanaimo, July 7.—Fire yesterday afternoon destroyed the home of Thomas Mills at South Wellington, two adjoining residences being slightly damaged. The fire is believed to have been caused by defective wiring and was first noticed in the roof. Volunteers saved most of the furniture, but the five-roomed wooden building was a total loss, covered by insurance.

Strikingly, Radically New

Phantom★Kotex

SANITARY NAPKIN (Can. Pat. applied for)

Most important improvement in sanitary protection since the invention of Kotex itself in 1920

AT LAST! A radically new design in sanitary protection. You are scarcely aware that you have it on. Made, of course, by Kotex—originators of the modern sanitary napkin.

It is called PHANTOM★KOTEX. Why? because the ends are so flattened and tapered that it leaves no outlines even under the closest-fitting of gowns. Not the slightest bulk suggested even under the finest of summer silks. There's extra protective surface but the ends are so skillfully flattened as to be completely inconspicuous. Months of research... thousands of practical tests participated in by more than 600 women... led to this new design. Fashion authorities acclaim it.

Kotex features retained

The special Kotex features you have always appreciated are retained, of course. It is soft after hours of use; wonderfully absorbent; treated to deodorize; can be worn with equal protection, on either side; disposable, easily. Millions of Kotex pads are used in hospitals alone each year.

Insist upon getting genuine Kotex, when you buy it already wrapped. Each tapered end of the new pad is stamped "Kotex" now—so you can't get inferior substitutes.

Another important thing is that this new Kotex improvement comes to you at no increase in price. All dealers have the new PHANTOM★KOTEX.

HOW SHALL I TELL MY DAUGHTER?

Many a mother wonders. Now you simply hand your daughter the little booklet entitled, "Preparing for Womanhood". For free copy, address Myra Monk, R.N., Room 1103, 550 Bay Street, Toronto.

NOTE: Kotex—now at your dealer's—marked "Form-Fitting" is the new Phantom Kotex

The new Kotex is called PHANTOM★KOTEX because you scarcely realize you are wearing it!

No revealing outlines—The new PHANTOM★KOTEX is flattened and tapered so that ends are completely inconspicuous.

Greater security—The smooth, snug fit gives greater wearing ease than you've ever before experienced.

Lastingly soft—disposable—The same softness and absorbency for which Kotex is famous. Disposable always.

SOCIAL, PERSONAL AND HOME INTERESTS

Stars Waited Many Years For Success

By Robert Grandon

But FRANK BACON needed forty years to make Broadway.

"Just as a matter of curiosity, why is it that movie magnates have so much difficulty in discovering talent?" I asked Carl (Junior) Laemmle the other day. "You know, the fan magazines have been making much of the fact that Boris Karloff came to Hollywood before you were born and had to wait until you grew up to get a chance in the films. . . . How about it?"

"Just this, Bob. . . . We're dumb, of course. . . . But no more so than the stage wizards that are looked upon as demi-gods." Carl returned. . . . and then we started to recapitulate.

Boris Karloff waited twenty years for his chance. . . . Clark Gable worked as an extra and twice left Hollywood before he got his chance. . . . June Mathis wept tears to get Rudolph Valentino his chance. . . . Janet Gaynor worked four years as an extra. . . . Ruth Chatterton broke in through the grace of Emil Jannings. . . . Ann Dvorak danced about the studios for three years before she got her first part. . . . Lew Ayres, Helen Twelvetrees. . . . oh well, finish the list. . . . they just waited and waited.

Now look at the stage. . . . as Junior suggested. . . . The late Frank Bacon waited forty years before he had a chance to play "Lightnin'". Richard Mansfield sang in comic opera and lived on hot potatoes while waiting his chance. . . . Walter Hampden went broke in Cleveland trying to do Shakespeare and not a manager would back him. . . . Hal Bickley was a hoofer for years and Barbara Stanwyck was a chorus girl until they got their chance in "Burlesque". . . . They turned down "The Lion and the Mouse", "Lightnin'", "Way Down East", "Shore Acres", so often it's a wonder the manuscript survived.

Movie magnates are not dumb, take it from Junior. . . . It would be a miracle to plunge your hands into a mob of extras and pull out a star. . . . Often the years of service are necessary to prepare them for stardom. . . . and if you could pick a box office favorite by looking at one, what a simple thing production would become.

CHAPTER XI

Cherry said "Oh—!" and then her voice dropped in disappointment. A bell boy in blue uniform stood at the door. He held a large pasteboard box bearing in heavy lettering the name, "The Stanley Company."

"Package for you, Mrs. Phillips," Cherry told him to put the box down and rummaged in her purse for a coin. The door clicked on the youth's retreating back.

There were her purchases of the afternoon. Cherry considered, the package doubtfully. Ninety-three dollars and seventy cents spent for a few simple garments. Suddenly she wished she had not gone shopping. It seemed a huge sum—$93.70. Why, it was almost $100. In the store she had thought only that the dresses were becoming, that she wanted Dan to see how well she looked in them. Now she would have to tell him how much she had cost. She wished she had bought something for Dan instead of for herself. Here it was, the first day of her marriage, and she had spent almost the whole time buying two dresses.

The dresses should have been taken out and hung away so they would not be wrinkled but, in her disaffection, Cherry carried the box unopened to the clothes closet and pushed it back in the shadows. Then she straightened with a sigh and returned to the window to wait for Dan. She thought she might see him coming down the street but half an hour later when his key turned in the lock the sound started her. "Oh, Dan—I'm so glad you've come!" She flew into his arms. Dan's arms, so strong, so comforting. The touch of his cheek against her temple. Swift, reassuring kisses. Suddenly she felt that where Dan was she must be a beautiful surroundings, pretty clothes, what did any of these matter? She looked up at him through shining, tear-spangled lashes. "Why, darling! What's the matter?" "It's—!" she began. "I'm so happy, Dan!"

He crushed her close again in a quick embrace, laughing. "Is that the way you show it when you're happy—getting your eyes all red with tears? Someone will be saying Dan Phillips beats that beautiful young wife of his or locks her up without anything to eat."

"Say it again, dear!"

"Say what?"

"I love to hear you call me your wife."

Tender words, softly whispered. Precious, precious moments. They stole past swiftly until the orange light faded above the ragged city skyline and dusk settled in the streets. "Was it a long day, Cherry? Were you lonesome?"

"It doesn't matter now. Everything's all right so long as you're here again."

"What did you do this afternoon?"

"There it was! A cold hand seemed to settle over the girl's heart. She didn't want to remember the way she had spent the afternoon. Cherry evaded:

"Oh, I went out for a while and walked around. Then I came back to the hotel and read the paper and waited. I spent a lot of time getting ready for dinner."

"Ah, dinner! Reminds me I have a date with a certain young woman. If I keep her waiting much longer she'll probably swoon at my feet. Get your bonnet, Cherry. I'll just remove the surface of grime from this battered old face and be ready in two seconds."

As they went through the door a little later Phillips remarked casually, "By the way, honey, I thought we'd go to the Wellington to-night but—well, the fact is I intended to get a check cashed and then forgot. Would you mind if we drop in at a little place I know over on Locust Street? Nothing very fancy, but the food's o.k."

She assured him she did not mind. Out on the street Cherry raised her head proudly. She wished the whole world could see her walking beside this tall young man who loved her and was so good to her. She wished above all else that her father and mother might see their daughter at that moment.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily And Buster's Buttons

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Buster, who was one of Uncle Wiggily's many little boy rabbits, stayed at the dinner table longer than any of the other children one day. When the others ran out to play, Buster was still in his seat.

"Are you waiting for something, Buster?" asked his mother.

"Yes'm," he answered. "May I have another cookie?"

"Where are you taking Buster?" asked Mr. Stubbins.

"Ouch!" sauced the pig

plate of cookies to the small bunny. Just then Mrs. Longears happened to look out of the window and Uncle Wiggily was feeling to see if his pink nose was twinkling all right, so neither of them saw what Buster did. But I may tell you, Buster filled the pockets of his coat with sugar cookies and, taking the last one on the plate in his paw, started away from the table.

The little boy rabbit had not gone very far, however, before there was a snapping sound in the room and something hit Uncle Wiggily on his pink nose.

"My goodness! What is that?" asked the rabbit gentleman in surprise.

"If you please, Daddicums," Buster said, "it was one of my buttons."

"One of your buttons?" cried Mr. Longears. "What do you mean?"

"I see what it is," said Mrs. Longears. "Buster is getting so fat, from eating so much, that his clothes are too small for him. He is straining at his coat and it is so tight that one of the buttons snapped off."

"Yes," Buster said, "that is it. A button snapped off my pants, yesterday."

"That will never do!" exclaimed Mrs. Longears.

"No, indeed," agreed her husband. "I will take Buster to the store and get him a new suit if he is getting so fat in this one that his buttons are snapping off. Wait a little while, Buster, until I get my hat, and I'll take you to get a new suit."

"Oh, fine!" exclaimed Buster and he took a cookie out of his pocket and started to eat it. He was waiting for his rabbit father to come back. And just as Uncle Wiggily entered the room—"Snap!" Another button flew off Buster's coat and hit a cup on the table, making a ringing sound like a bell.

"Oh, Buster!" said Uncle Wiggily. "We had better hurry and get you another suit before you burst off any more buttons. Come on!"

Uncle Wiggily and Buster hopped down the woodland path toward the tree where a Tailor Bird had a nest and where many of the animal folk had their clothes made.

"Good morning, Uncle Wiggily!" greeted Mr. Twistytail, the fat pig gentleman, as he saw the two bunnies coming toward him. "Where are you taking Buster?"

"To get him a new suit," answered Mr. Longears. "He is getting too fat for this one."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the jolly old pig. "Buster is almost as fat as I am. Let me look at you," said Buster, turned around, so Mr. Twistytail could see all sides of him. The little boy bunny ate another cookie from his pocket. And then, all of a sudden, he swelled up a bit bigger and—presto—"Crack!"

Off flew another button, hitting Mr. Twistytail on his rubbery nose.

"Ouch!" exclaimed the pig. "I should say you did need a new suit, Buster. You had better hurry, Wiggily!"

Uncle Wiggily and Buster hurried to the Tailor Bird and before they reached the place, they met Mr. Stubbins, the bear gentleman.

"Where are you taking Buster?" asked Mr. Stubbins.

Before Uncle Wiggily could answer, Buster ate another cookie.

"Bang!" popped a fourth button off his coat and it tickled Mr. Stubbins in his left eye. He cried "ouch!" and then he laughed and when Uncle Wiggily told the bear that Buster was going to have a new and larger suit, Mr. Stubbins said:

"You had better hurry for he hasn't many buttons left to snap off."

Away hurried Uncle Wiggily and Buster. They were almost at the nest of the Tailor Bird when the woods jumped the Bob Cat. Then Buster ate two cookies and suddenly grew so fat that the last three buttons burst off his coat and banged the Bob Cat in his two eyes and on his nose and the Bob Cat cried: "I'm shot!" And away he ran.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "I guess, after all, Buster, it is a good thing you grew fat so suddenly." Then the little bunny boy was given a new suit to fit him and pop off his buttons. So everybody was happy.

And if the teapot will give the coffee cup a drink of milk when the chocolate cake stings the roof of the mouth, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Buster's stockings.

Horoscope

FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1932

Sinister planetary influences appear to be strong to-day, according to astrologers. It is a time for routine work. Many subjects of horoscope regarding national issues, it will be slow in making decisions.

September is a place where ill for harmony on many questions of vital interest to the people who are warned to use logic and justice in forming their opinions.

This should be a favorable time under which to take stock of one's possessions and one's ambitions, but there may be a tendency toward much pessimism.

This is a fortunate day for newspapers and for writers, who will have much to present to the public. It should bring profit to advertisers.

The mind should be safeguarded against fear and other disorganizing mental concepts. It is not an auspicious way for those who harbor regret or religious impulses.

An increase in the number of suicides and murders may be startling as the summer closes. It is foretold, and all who would retain mental balance should seek activity of mind and body.

If the stars are rightly read, there is to be good luck for the men and women who exercise power through wealth or business connections, for they are to realize that they are merely custodians of money or opportunities, nothing more.

In Europe there may be much ill health at this time because of improper foods or contaminated water. It is predicted that the war will be widely circulated. The war will be slow to accept alarming stories. Communism and other forms of radicalism may spread and cause varied troubles. True patriots should be stirred by the coming months, when evil propaganda will be widely disseminated, astrologers declare.

Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of fair success in financial affairs, but the romance may be a disturbing influence.

Children born on this day probably will be affectionate, high-spirited and inclined to extreme points of view. Many subjects of horoscope through foresight and energy.

John D. Rockefeller, famous capitalist, was born on this day, 1839. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Joseph Chamberlain, British statesman; Samuel Gross, 1803, noted surgeon, and Fitz-Green Hallack, 1796, poet.

AT THE SOURCE

Nearly every illness begins with some minor ailment. Most of these ailments are the direct result of constipation, often unsuspected. Indifference to this condition is very dangerous.

these Ailments

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Neutralize acidity by a daily glass of ENO and you will have taken the best precaution against rheumatism. This saline drink is pleasant to take, safe and natural in action and efficient in its promotion of health.

ACIDITY

That unpleasant acid taste is quickly neutralized by the alkaline content of ENO. A glass of bubbling "Fruit Salt" once or twice a day corrects an unwise diet and washes away stagnant poisons.

POOR COMPLEXION

Sallow, blotchy or muddy skin can usually be traced to faulty elimination. Clear away accumulated toxins with a daily glass of ENO and watch the natural colour return to your cheeks.

HEADACHE

Waste matter which is not regularly eliminated causes many a headache and coated tongue. Keep clean inwardly with ENO and the source of most headaches will disappear.

BROKEN SLEEP

In many cases, sleeplessness is due to indigestion. Ensure inner cleanliness and sound sleep follows naturally. That is why disturbed nights rarely trouble those who have their glass of ENO regularly.

UNSHAPELY FIGURE

Heavy eyes, puffy skin, an ugly figure—these are often the result of internal congestion. Many people live half-powered lives because of it. Yet ENO regularly will bring about an improvement in appearance and restore cheerfulness and vitality.

The words "Fruit Salt" and ENO are registered trade marks.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Unhappy Young Mother Advised Temporarily to Give Up Child for Husband—Shall Couple Give Up Marria's Plans to Placate Hysterical Daughter?

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young girl and have been engaged for three years and am soon to be married. My fiancé has a fine position and in addition conducts a large orchestra and is very popular. He is widely known and greatly liked. Also, he has a wonderful family. We have a baby girl several months old. As soon as we are married I want to adopt her, but George says "no," that I must put her in a foundling home. That if people found out about her he would be disgraced, and he cannot stand that. So I must decide between him and my baby. I will be miserable if I give him up, but I want my baby. What shall I do? DORA.

Answer—We have to pay for our sins, do we not, Dora? And I can think of no higher price than a woman can pay than to have to decide between her baby and the man she loves. Whichever she chooses will be a heartbreak for the other.

Of course, you have to look at George's side of the matter and that is easy enough to see. He is popular, admired, respected, has hosts of friends, an enviable position in the community. It certainly would be a humiliation to him to have his little pink balloon that is sailing so gayly in the air punctured by gossiping tongues as it would be if he returned from his honeymoon with a child. Perhaps, in his position, he also spares you a thought and wants to save you from the cold welcome you would get from his family and friends if you came among them with the evidence of your weakness and folly in your arms.

Also, you must remember that paternity is not to men what maternity is to women. Very few men seem to have any more feeling or sense of responsibility toward their illegitimate children than a stray cat has toward its kittens. A child has to be born in wedlock and the father has to be associated with it intimately in the home, but there are very few women in the world who do not love their children even before they are born and whose arms do not ache for their little ones as long as they live, if they are forced to give them up.

Of course, thousands of girls who bring fatherless little children into the world are compelled to turn them over to asylums and give them to more fortunate women to adopt because of their fear of disgrace and because they cannot possibly support a child and themselves, too, and because they know it would be so much better for the child, but I doubt if one of these poor pitiful unwed mothers ever ceases to grieve over her lost baby.

So much may be said in excuse of George. He is taking the easiest way that probably nine men out of ten would take under the circumstances, but if he were a finer and a stronger character he would stand up and take his punishment and do his duty by the little helpless creature that he brought into the world. For he cannot evade his responsibility there. He owes it to the child to give her a name and a home and the blessing of being brought up by a mother who loves her.

At present it would be inadvisable for all concerned for you to follow your plan and adopt her, but several years hence it might be done without causing any comment and it would give you both a chance to save your consciences and make what amends you could to the child for your sin against her.

But if you have to decide between George and the child I think you will be wise to take him, because you cannot make enough money to even feed and clothe the child decently. You will have nobody to take care of her, and she would be better off in an asylum than she would be with you. Also, in an asylum her life will not be made miserable by her being twitted with her illegitimacy as it would be if she was known as the child of an unwed mother.

Also, your little girl will have the chance of being adopted by some woman who will be a good mother to her and give her a home and rearing, and some other man will give her a name her own father refuses her. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a middle-aged woman, comfortably well off, but very lonely. I am engaged to a widower similarly circumstanced and as we are very congenial we feel that we could make each other happy. But the widower has a married daughter who lives with him and who will not permit him to marry, not because it is me, but because she does not want him to marry at all. She goes into hysterics and threatens to destroy herself if he marries. I have asked him to give his daughter the largest portion of his property before we marry, and I am willing to use my own money for us to live on, but nothing satisfies her. We are both very unhappy and she makes his life a torture to him. What are we to do? UNHAPPY ONES.

Answer—That is the easiest question I have ever been called upon to answer. No problem at all. Do not say another word to your daughter. Just step around to the parson, get married and then go off on a nice long bridal trip. And from the first stop send her a wire telling her what you have done and that there is no use crying over spilt milk. She will throw a few fits and probably sulk awhile, and if nobody notices her she will get over it and everybody will be happy. As for her carrying out her threat to kill herself, that is simply bluff that she will run all of her life to get her own way, and if you have just got the nerve to call it you will find out that instead of taking rough-on-rats she will mix up a dose of bicarbonate of soda or that the pistol she flourishes around has not had a load in it for ten years.

Hysterics is the coward's weapon that a lot of women use to gratify their own desires. They are cry-babies who howl for what they want until they get it. They make scenes if they are crossed and so everybody walks on tiptoes around them and gratifies their every whim. Thus are they enabled to tyrannize over the family because nobody has enough sense or backbone to just walk off and leave them to their own devices when they begin to scream and rage.

It is perfectly silly for a middle-aged man and woman to let their lives be ruined by the whim of an utterly selfish woman who, for no reason at all, wants to keep them from getting married, and if you give in to her you will deserve all you get. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am often called "a good girl" and "a nice girl." What is the difference between the two? GEANNE.

Answer—None whatever. A good girl is a nice girl and a nice girl is a good girl, and either one or both of them is a sweet and a dear. DOROTHY DIX.

DREAMING AND PLAYING

What are you doing with your spare time this summer? During summer vacations which came during my boyhood, I used to spend much time in the shade of a

Baseball is a fine, healthful game. I used to play it every day, and I am sure it is good for you, too. I always took one or two books with me when I went to this place. Usually I had not read more than half a dozen pages before an insect of some kind would begin exploring my arms or legs or—maybe—my neck. I then had to use a moment or two getting rid of the pest.

After the third or fourth visit from the insect world, I was likely to lay aside the book. Then I would lie at full length on the ground, doing nothing in particular—just dreaming. I do not remember what I dreamed about, but I think there was value in spending time that way. Children need space in which to grow; an I think that every child should have time to himself so that he may use it in thinking or planning or daydreaming.

Other hours in the vacation were given to swimming or playing baseball. I still enjoy taking part in a game of baseball.

Many types of boys and girls live in this old world of ours, and a rule may not hold for every one; but it seems to me that there are few boys or girls who would not find good, healthful exercise in a game of baseball played with the semi-soft ball which is now so widely used. Many boys prefer the hard "league" baseball; but the other kind is good for girls as well as boys. Sports of almost any kind—if not too severe or kept up for too long a space—are of help in building health. Tennis is a fast, exciting game, and is excellent exercise for any youth, unless he had a weak heart. Your muscles and good sense will no doubt tell you that it is not wise to spend the whole day playing such a fast game, but a set or two at a time is real fun. Whatever you do, keep your reason with you. Spread your day around, after you do your chores—some sports and games, some reading, some thinking and some dreaming. Uncle Ray's new funmaker leaflet is ready. Magic and fun galore in it. It is a second surprise leaflet. Write Uncle Ray and ask for it. Be sure to enclose a stamped return envelope.

FREER FLOW OF TRADE NEEDED

Speakers at Advertisers' Convention in Vancouver Urge Need of World Co-operation

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 7.—The familiar rotunda of the Hotel Vancouver to-day is a museum of publicity. Down its length and sweeping into the well-known Peacock Alley is a display of advertising such as this city has never before seen. Every nation, all peoples, are represented in the colorful stories carried on boards showing how the vast organized industry of advertising is serving mankind, and relating the producer to the consumer, carrying its message of distribution.

The Pacific Advertising Clubs Association is holding its twenty-ninth annual convention here, and all Vancouver has paused to bid these emissaries of trade and commerce welcome. BREAKFAST MEETING
To-day's sessions of the convention opened with short discussions at a breakfast meeting, followed by an address by Prof. W. A. Crothers of the University of British Columbia. On "Price," Prof. Crothers is one of the outstanding economists of western Canada. Howard S. Coulter, Vancouver barrister, debated with R. R. Harrison of Seattle, taking the negative on the question: "Resolved that burlesquing is beneficial to advertising." Mr. Coulter was supported by Dr. Neil McDougall, Vancouver.

The afternoon session was given over to committee meetings and social functions for visiting women, to be followed by an evening cruise on Howe Sound.

At a noon luncheon of the advertisers yesterday Elsie Brown O'Bryan of the Women's Advertising Club, Portland, was awarded first honors for the best three-minute speech. Others who received honorable mention were Elmon G. Miller, Portland, and Sid Levy, San Francisco.

MANY DANCED
Yesterday the advertisers were cloistered in executive sessions. In the evening in the crystal ballroom of the hotel, 200 couples danced to lively music. Copy was forgotten, layouts and campaigns were puto to one side and mirth held sway. And while the dancers whirled away the hours, scores studied the history of advertising as it is told by the placards in the corridors. From crude clay tablets of the ancients to the beauty of ultra modern color work the story is unfolded in this unique display. But most arresting of all is the space given over to the propaganda of modern Soviet Russia.

MORE TRADE NEEDED

At yesterday afternoon's session of the convention, B. C. Nicholas, editor of The Victoria Times, addressed the delegates on the subject, "What Flag Will Prosperity Fly?" He pointed out the economic situation was a world problem and all nations were interested. None could live unto itself. Prosperity would come only when trade and commerce flowed freely once more throughout the world.

CO-OPERATION DESIRED

This sentiment of world co-operation permeated the proceedings. Howard S. Coulter, Vancouver, expressed the same opinion in an address on "Attacking the Barriers of World Recovery." Harry B. Coffin of Portland, chairman of the international advertising exhibit, repeated the thought in his description of the displays of advertising of all nations at the convention.

Ex-Premier Hughes Is Visiting London

Canadian Press
London, July 7.—While the present day leaders go of the Empire are on their way to Ottawa or preparing to go there for the Imperial Economic Conference, one of the most arresting figures of war time arrived in London to-day for a private visit. Rt. Hon. William Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia from 1915 to 1923, whose ready wit and extraordinary acuteness in the time of crisis caused him to be called the Australian Lloyd George. To-day Mr. Hughes, who bulked large as a member of the War Cabinet and the Peace Conference, is the only private member of the Australian House of Representatives giving independent support to United Australia Party Government. It is thirteen years since he last visited London, and he hopes to remain here until December.

PLANS NORTH GOLD SEARCH

Vancouver Man May Lead Expedition Soon in Barren Lands

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 7.—Captain James C. Critchell-Bullock, of Vancouver, companion of the late John Hornby in his wanderings in the sub-Arctic barren lands of the Northwest Territories for three years, may lead an expedition into the north in attempt to locate rich gold, silver and radium properties.

"Hornby was the original discoverer of the Great Bear Lake radium area," Capt. Critchell-Bullock declares. "He was too eccentric, however, to be able to lead a company for the development or even the proper staking of properties."

"During his wanderings in the Barren he made many other important discoveries and before he died he turned over to me most of his samples, his diaries and his maps."

One of these samples, assayed recently in Vancouver, showed values of $126,000 to the ton in free gold, Capt. Critchell-Bullock said.

"I showed these samples to mining men in New York in 1927," he added, "but they laughed at me. They said even if it were true the properties were much too far away to be of any use. Since then, however, airplane transportation has developed to a point where nearly all mining properties are within reach."

An Edmonton group financed by Toronto capital had already moved in supplies and equipment, he said, and had a plane ready to leave Edmonton at short notice.

"I can not say where our base will be," Critchell-Bullock declared. "We shall fly from Edmonton to a base within 150 miles of the valley where I hope to locate the property from which the richest of the gold samples was obtained."

Capt. Critchell-Bullock admitted he did not know the exact location of the discovery, but he believed that from Hornby's maps and diary he would be able to find it.

"It is just a chance, of course," he said. "During my years with him he told me of many important ore discoveries in all parts of the north country. I have forgotten most of them. There are sketches and rough maps for many others, however, and it is quite possible we shall be able to find what we want."

START DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Sale of B.C. Agricultural Association Tickets Will Commence Shortly

At a special meeting held by the B.C. Agricultural Association in the City Hall yesterday afternoon, with E. M. Whyte presiding, it was decided to place the annual sale of membership tickets in the hands of Gerald F. Brown and George R. Summerfield, of the Liberty Sales and Publications in this city.

Citizens of Victoria, who in the past have been noted for their wholehearted support of these annual fairs, will be called on, in the course of the next few weeks, to assist in making this year's exhibition one of the most outstanding on record.

Citizens availing themselves of membership tickets will be entitled to all privileges of a member of the association for the coming season. In addition to having a vote at the meetings of the association and free entry at any time to the 1932 Fall Fair to be held August 22 at the Willows.

SEE THE NEW

MARVELUBE

MOTOR OIL
THEN YOU'LL UNDERSTAND WHY YOU SHOULD USE IT

Ordinary oils are dark in color because of high carbon, gum and sludge content.

The New Marvelube is clean, clear, bright golden colored—you can see through it. It's all oil.

Forget all your old ideas about motor oils and look at the subject in a simple, non-technical way.

What do you expect of a motor oil?—lubrication! The purer an oil is, the freer from carbon-forming, gum and sludge-forming, trouble-making properties, the better lubrication it will give you. ¶ The New Marvelube is all oil. Stop at an Imperial dealer's or service station and look at it—clear, pure, bright golden-colored without undesirable properties to make it fail under intense heat, or thicken too much in cold weather, or deposit gum, carbon, etc. ¶ It is the purest of motor oils and for that reason the best suited for your motor. You wouldn't buy dirty gasoline—why not buy pure motor oil too?

Whether you change oil every 500 miles or every 2500 miles you will get better results with the New Marvelube. Most automobile manufacturers recommend changing oil every 500 miles because oil gets dirty in use and accumulates road grime and other injurious substances.

Next time your crankcase needs re-filling remember that the New Marvelube is the purest of all motor oils—and that means the ideal oil for your car.

NEWS IN BRIEF

William Campbell was fined $10 in the City Police Court this morning for driving an automobile with the exhaust muffler cut out.

Orval Ruston was fined $25 when he pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to driving to the common danger on Fernwood Road on July 1.

The condition of Tommy Muir, aged five, one of the victims of last Sunday's dynamite blast in Saanich, was reported "quite good" at the Jubilee Hospital to-day.

Permit for construction of a five-room dwelling at 983 Southgate Street was issued by the city building inspector to-day by H. B. Brown, contractor. The structure will cost about $2,700.

Receipts from the inside section of the Victoria Public Market in June were $620.40, as compared with $619.70 in June, 1931, the market superintendent reported to the city council yesterday.

Crews from the Victoria Fire Department fought a bush fire in the Industrial Reserve this morning for two hours. They were called out at 11:40 o'clock and got the blaze under control after a stiff battle.

Construction of experimental ultra-short wave radio sets will be undertaken by several members of the Victoria Short Wave Club, following a meeting held on Tuesday evening at the residence of T. C. Brown. "Decision to build various types of sets was made after much debate. Several members expressed the hope that arrangements might be made for carrying out foreign tests."

All municipalities of British Columbia have been provided by Reeve Crouch of Saanich with detailed reports of the recent conference on unemployment, between representatives of the Union of B.C. Municipalities and the provincial government. Reeve Crouch will this evening present to the Saanich Council report of the proceedings at the municipal convention at Nelson and the conference with the cabinet.

The next regular meeting of the United Front Council will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock at 751 West Street, when final arrangements will be made for the extended United Front Conference of all organizations of Lower Vancouver Island to discuss the repeal of Section 88, deportation and vagrancy laws, unemployment insurance and other matters vital to all workers. The conference date has been set for July 22, and it is anticipated that there will be a large attendance.

MRS. J. MILNE DIES

The death occurred yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital of Mrs. Mary Milne, aged sixty-seven, a resident of this city for fifteen years. She leaves to mourn her passing, besides her loving husband, John Milne, of 3024 Futland Road, three daughters, Mrs. Lamport and Mrs. Coleman, residing here, and Mrs. Chadderton, Vancouver, and three sons, John, Charles and Robert, all of this city. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

RETURN FROM EAGLES' RALLY

Three Local Delegates Attending Big F.O.E. Convention in Seattle

Frank LeRoy, past state president of the F.O.E. of British Columbia, No. 12, and C. H. Lister, junior president, returned yesterday afternoon from Seattle after attending the annual three-day convention of Washington State and British Columbia units of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The adoption of old age pensions in Washington and the stabilization of employment were among the measures advocated by the Eagles. Vancouver was chosen as the site of the convention for June, 1933. E. J. Cyr, Yakima, was elected new state president. Dr. E. M. Blair, Vancouver, appointed state chaplain. The only British Columbian on the new executive.

The retiring state president, Henry Webber, Everett, was presented with a gold receipt case. Thousands of Seattleites witnessed the Eagles' parade, which was held in conjunction with the American Legion. The parade, which was one of the most colorful in the history of Seattle, took two hours to pass a given point.

Competitions in ritual work and women's drill were featured on Monday night's programme. The convention proved a great success, according to reports brought back by the local delegates.

FORMER PRINTER DIED YESTERDAY

Archibald King, Resident Here Forty Years, Succumbs at St. Joseph's

Archibald King, a resident of Victoria for forty years, passed away yesterday evening at St. Joseph's Hospital, aged seventy-eight years. Born in Scotland, Mr. King was a compositor by profession and worked at his trade in Edinburgh for some time before coming to Canada.

Mr. King was a member of the mechanical staffs of The Times, The Colonist and the Government Printing Office at different times and was superannuated some years ago. He had been in poor health for three years.

Mr. King is survived by a daughter, Mrs. R. Genn, of Victoria, and a son, Archibald A. King, Port Alice.

W. B. COLVIN NOW MEMBER OF BAR
Walter B. Colvin of the Attorney-General's Department, was this morning sworn in as a barrister and solicitor, the oath being administered by Chief Justice Morrison in Supreme Court chambers. Mr. Colvin was introduced by Lindley Crease, K.C.

Mr. Colvin is a native son of British Columbia and has been attached to the Attorney-General's department for many years. He studied law as articled clerk to Oscar C. Bass, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General.

U.S. Star Checks in With Par Shattering 69 at Ottawa To-day

Ottawa Hunt Club, July 7.—Scoring a 69, four under par, Harry Cooper leaped into the lead in the Canadian open golf championship early this afternoon. On his fall was George Von Elm, blonde businessman golfer from Detroit, who cruised the course in 70. Leo Diegel, four times champion, was in third place with a 72.

Diegel's par-shattering round disappointed him. A birdie on the eighteenth would have given him a 70. He was on in three, twelve feet from the pin but took three putts for a six. Diegel went out in thirty-five strokes, two under par, getting birdies on the third and fifth holes and par figures on the rest. Coming home he was one over at the fourteenth, where he got into the woods, and on the eighteenth. On the twelfth he had a birdie four.

Bobby Cruickshanks, New York, had a 74. Billy Burke, former U.S. open champion, and Jules Huot, Quebec open titlist, shot 76's.

Horton Smith joined the 74's when he carded a 38 and a 36. Richard Green, Kingston, was up among the leaders, with a 77 made up of 38 and 39.

Charles Murray, Royal Montreal, who played with Diegel, had 78 and Arthur Keeling, Fonthill, Ont., and Lex Robson, Canadian pro champion, had 79's. Andy Kay, Toronto, Leamington, lost his Canadian pro crown Tuesday to Robson, had an eighteen-hole score of 75 and was right up with the leaders.

K. C. Brown and J. Leonard Must Serve Sentences Imposed

Kenneth C. Brown, convicted by an assize jury of stealing an automobile in Vancouver last February, this morning lost his personal appeal to the Court of Appeal against his sentence of one year, imposed by Mr. Justice Fisher. He also lost his application to have the term made concurrent with a police court sentence of two years, for breaking and entering and stealing license plates from a truck.

Brown also was refused permission to appeal against the latter sentence, which he explained concerned the plates found on the stolen car.

He told the court that he had rented the car from a man whose name he did not know. Since being sentenced he had learned that the man in question since been arrested and was now in custody. He could, therefore, be called to testify at a new trial.

FUR THEFT
Joseph Leonard lost his appeal against a sentence of six months hard labor for stealing a fur skin, imposed by Chief Justice Morrison at the Kamloops Assizes last spring. He alleged that a recently discharged game warden had been foreman of the trial jury, but the bench pointed out that the ex-official was eligible for jury service but could have been challenged.

Chief Justice Macdonald refused to permit presentation of appeals by Percy Matheson, William McLarnin and Ennle de Grosse. Appeals to be heard this afternoon include George Chankovitch, Mike Hekovich and Albert E. Betty.

The Court adjourned for the long vacation upon the termination of the criminal appeals now pending.

ACCIDENT VICTIM BURIED

Many sorrowing friends attended the funeral of Boris Derman, which took place on Tuesday afternoon. Canon H. W. G. Stocken conducted the service. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The following acted as pallbearers: Benjamin Hunt, Joseph Sparks, Edward Leggett and William Muir. The casket was covered with many beautiful flowers, testifying to the widespread sympathy for the bereaved family.

FUNERAL IS HELD

The funeral of Mrs. Olive Jane Rothwell took place on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. O. L. Jull conducted the service. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: W. Riddle, A. Riddle, G. W. Riddle, H. E. Purdy, G. W. Gellert and J. Maddigan.

Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To—WALTER FLETCHER
DAVID RAMSAY
G. W. BROWN
MRS. J. W. FLINTON
AUSTIN FLINTONWALTER FLETCHER
Mr. Fletcher who is celebrating his birthday to-day, was born in Victoria, educated in local schools and entered business with his father several years ago. He is one of the leaders of the younger business men in this city and is actively interested in boys' work and community affairs. He has been chairman of the civic affairs committee of the Gyro Club and is active among the boys at the First United Church and the Y.M.C.A. Besides this he finds time to swing golf clubs. He is described as a keen golfer.

Birthday congratulations are being received to-day by David Ramsay, who was president of the Saanich Liberal Association for some time and is an active worker for the Liberal party. He was born in Glasgow and engaged in the wholesale business there before going to Saskatchewan in 1902 to farm and pioneer. What Mr. Ramsay is tired in 1919 he considered Victoria was the best place in the world for such a purpose and he has not changed his opinion after thirteen years. His favorite recreations are chess and lawn bowling.

G. W. BROWN
Mr. Brown, who lives at 1137 Pembroke Street, is celebrating his birthday to-day. He belongs to one of Victoria's oldest families. Mr. Brown is a native son and was born here fifty-eight years ago. His mother has resided in the city seventy-two years.

Mrs. J. W. Flinton, wife of Canon J. W. Flinton, who celebrated her birthday yesterday, came to Vancouver from England to be married forty years ago since the time has been an invaluable helpmate to her husband in many parishes on the Island. She has courageously worked with him in the glorious pioneering duties that were the lot of ministers years ago when meagre stipends were supplemented by farming. Although now living in retirement with her husband on Sunnyside Avenue, she still retains cherished friendships and corresponds with old-time friends at many points between Alberni and Victoria. She is an accomplished pianist and violinist.

Austin Flinton, one of the two sons of Canon and Mrs. Flinton, celebrated his birthday yesterday. Mr. Flinton, who is employed at Yarrow's Ltd., when war broke out. Under age, but husky lad, they succeeded in persuading a recruiting agent to pass them and left for overseas together to see active service in France. Austin turned to salesmanship on his return and successfully built up an extensive Vancouver Island connection. He is a keen tennis player and has also played football and baseball for several Island teams.

HOTEL LOBBY GOSSIP

Col. C. Villiers, head of the Canadian Collieries, is in Victoria to-day from his home in Cumberland. He is on one of his regular business visits to the capital and is at the Empress Hotel.

Among the Vancouver business men who came over to Victoria to-day are A. L. McLennan, H. J. Allen, A. Lucas and M. Clark. They are all at the Empress Hotel.

H. R. Jamieson arrived this morning from Seattle on a summer visit to Victoria.

Miss B. Town of Vancouver is at the Empress Hotel to-day.

FUNERAL TO-MORROW

Funeral services for Frederick Laugh-ton, who passed away in this city Monday, will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. J. H. A. Warr will officiate and interment will be in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Ernest Hill, 721 West Street, testified his agent had rented a car about 2:30 o'clock on the evening of the fire and had been returned about 2:30 o'clock the next morning, the receipt showed.

The case adjourned at 1 o'clock and resumed at 3 o'clock.

ARSON TRIAL OPENS HERE

Former Room-mate States F. Oak Premeditated Barracks Hospital Blaze

Tells Story of Preparations and Fire at Work Point February 27, 1931

Trial of Frederick William Oak, seven oaks, Saanich, charged with arson in connection with the hospital fire at Work Point Barracks on February 27, 1931, opened in the Esquimalt Police Court this morning.

After five other witnesses had testified, William Garascadden, who was engaged as an orderly at the Work Point Barracks at the time of the fire, took the stand. He asked for the protection of the court.

Before coming to Victoria last Monday to testify in the case, he said he had been living with his brother in Calgary. He had joined the army on October 1, 1930, he stated.

When he first joined up at Work Point he lived in a hut near the hospital, witness said. "Later he became intimate with the accused, who was a member of the same unit, and asked permission to stay with him outside the barracks. Permission was granted and he lived in a boathouse with Oak. Later, not satisfied with the food, he asked to go back into the barracks. The medical authorities at the barracks at that time inspected Oak's boathouse and condemned it, forcing Oak to go back into the barracks with him. They lived in a hut next to the hospital."

At that time, the witness said, Oak developed a deep grudge against one of the sergeants and a nursing sister. He began to speak like a man who had lost his reason, making threats against the pair, witness said.

MENTIONED A PLAN

"He mentioned the fire to me about a month before it started," Garascadden stated. The accused had believed that if the hospital was burned, the hut in which he and the witness lived would be razed as well. This would give him, Oak, an opportunity to get outside again, and to secure an allowance which would make it possible for him to marry, Garascadden said.

Oak had kept suggesting the burning of the hospital, witness continued, and he, Garascadden, had tried to dissuade him.

"On the day the hospital was burned, Oak said to me, 'It's going to burn tonight,'" Garascadden testified. Witness stated Oak had told him not to be yellow and to stick to his side. Garascadden had said he would.

Oak had secured his pay cheque that day along with Garascadden, but this was almost entirely spent before it was cashed, witness said.

"He gave me his cheque and told me to cash it and get a car and five gallons of gasoline," witness said.

Garascadden then told of cashing the cheque and securing a car, and on returning to Work Point saw the accused talking to another on the hospital steps. Oak took a car with five gallons of gasoline from the rumble seat and Garascadden with two others went to a dance at Colwood.

They returned the car early in the morning and proceeded to the barracks, where they found the hospital on fire, witness said. He had worked with the other men in trying to extinguish it.

Nothing had been mentioned about the fire by his two companions at the dance, Garascadden stated.

TOLD ABOUT FIRE

"Two days later he (Oak) told me how it was done. He said he sprinkled gas on the stairs leading to the basement of the hospital and on the corner. He said there was an explosion and he was lucky to get out," witness testified. Oak then told witness to keep his mouth shut.

In reply to questions by R. C. Lowe, counsel for the defence, witness stated he had first told the story to Corporal Wilson of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police when the latter had interviewed him in Calgary.

Garascadden admitted having seen the car in which the gasoline was secured, after the fire.

Asked whether or not he had ever been in prison, Garascadden replied he had served a sentence of one year for stealing a car.

J. E. W. Houghton, 703 Esquimalt Road, accountant at Work Point Barracks, identified a cheque issued to Private F. W. Oak on February 27, 1931.

Nursing Sister Louise A. Macdonald, 628 Head Street, employed at the hospital on the night of the fire, testified she had arrived at her quarters at 10 o'clock that night. Private Oak and Private Pringle, the two men in charge, were in charge. She had seen the orderlies and been told everything was all right. She retired and was aroused at 12:45 o'clock by Private Oak, who told her the hospital was on fire. After that she had assisted in removing the patients.

She had always found Oak a trustworthy man, she said in reply to question by Mr. Lowe.

HEARD EXPLOSION

John F. Pringle, gunner in the Royal Canadian Artillery, told of being on duty in the upper ward on the night of the fire. Hourly he went to the kitchen to mix a lemonade for a patient. At about 12 o'clock he saw Private Oak working on some source of study in the kitchen. Some time later, while he was in the upper ward, he heard an explosion and went to the kitchen. Oak was not there, he stated. Rushing to the basement, he saw flames coming from the furnace room. The flames were among the rafters. He turned in an alarm and then assisted his patients to get out of the hospital. Oak had been working at the same job in the lower ward at that time, he testified.

Discussing the fire later with Oak, Pringle stated Oak had told him he had gone to the stove as part of his duty. There was an explosion and he had been singed before he rushed from the basement. Oak had said, before the fire, he had seen the stove explode twice when coal dust had been heaped on it, Pringle testified.

The structure of the basement and the furnace room were sketched by Sergeant Thomas Henry Griggs. He had examined the furnace room and basement, following the fire and saw no marks of an explosion, he told the court.

Ernest Hill, 721 West Street, testified his agent had rented a car about 2:30 o'clock on the evening of the fire and had been returned about 2:30 o'clock the next morning, the receipt showed.

The case adjourned at 1 o'clock and resumed at 3 o'clock.

COURT ORDERS SEAMAN FREED

James O'Donnell Wins Quashing of Sentence For Robbery With Violence

James O'Donnell, convicted by a Vancouver jury of robbery with violence from Alex. McCarrow in February, and sentenced to serve eighteen months in Oakalla, this morning given his freedom by the British Columbia Court of Appeal, which held the evidence insufficient to warrant conviction.

H. Richmond, Vancouver, addressed the court as counsel for O'Donnell. He said the young man was in steady employment as a seaman, and had held his position for five years.

Admitting the twenty-three-year-old seaman had been in bad company, counsel quoted police officers as testifying that the prisoner had been recovering from a drinking bout when arrested three hours after the hold-up had taken place. McCarrow, the victim, said he had been taken to two men in his well-lighted store on Cardero Street, had been unable to identify O'Donnell.

The only link between the prisoner and the robbery had been evidence by John Gibson, residing two blocks from the scene of the robbery, that he identified the prisoner in the dock as a man running past his window immediately after the hold-up. This witness had earlier been unable to pick out the accused from a police line-up.

The defence relied on an alibi, and had produced evidence showing O'Donnell to have been eight blocks away from the scene of the robbery at the time the crime was committed.

W. C. Moresby, K.C., Crown counsel, submitted that the question before the court was whether there should be a new trial or a quashing of the conviction. He did not think it fair to put the country to the expense of a new trial under the circumstances.

Chief Justice Macdonald believed the prisoner should be discharged. He noted that an official transcript of the evidence had not been provided, defence counsel by the Crown, the prisoner being without funds. Therefore the evidence read by Mr. Richmond should be accepted as true. His Lordship believed that evidence showed the man did not receive the benefit of the doubt and in fact seemed to show his innocence.

Mr. Justice Martin agreed, on the sole ground that the evidence was inconclusive against the prisoner.

Mr. Justice McPhillips said the verdict must be set aside, remarking he had doubt himself as to the guilt. He noted also that the trial judge who saw the witnesses and the accused, advised the jury not to convict. He also considered the alibi offered by O'Donnell to be satisfactory.

HINCHLIFFE NOT RESIGNING

Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education, to-day denied reports emanating from Vancouver, that he was about to resign and assume the position of Superintendent of Education. Mr. Hinchcliffe further stated that so far as he knew there was no change contemplated in the superintendency.

Wheat Market Loses Out Toward Close After Holding Firm

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, July 7.—The wheat market today lost most of the support it attracted yesterday and dropped back 3/4 cent a bushel. For the greater part of the trading period prices held firm, slumping with the Chicago market in the last hour.

Strength at Liverpool, which closed higher, bolstered prices early in the session. Weather in Western Canada, following a wet period, also had a depressing effect on traders.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, July 7.—Wheat: The market was nervous and erratic within a small range today, being rather featureless with export sales again practically nil. Opening prices were about unchanged but there was no pep shown, the market lacking any real business but very little selling pressure in evidence.

The market acted a little drifty during the first period, with prices sinking 1/4 under the close last night with Chicago also off about 3/4, but after the first hour, Chicago turned strong with prices advancing to 3/4 over the previous close and Winnipeg followed with 1/2 cent advance. Both markets looked like working higher, but a report was received from Chicago that the Farm Board was about to liquidate its remaining holdings of cash wheat of 35,000 bushels and had caused Chicago to break and both markets fell away to new lows for the day. It was a very disappointing action for the bulls.

In the cash market there was a moderate demand for certain grades, but very little was changing hands and all spreads were about unchanged. It was understood that American mills were after some three northern.

There was an early report that a hailstorm had done some damage in the southwestern Dakotas and had also extended into Iowa. The weather in the southwest was reported clear today while numerous showers were again received in the central territory. The forecast was for clearing and becoming warmer.

Black Sea shipments this week only 16,000 bushels, nothing from Russia. Argentine estimated shipments are 2,131,000 bushels. Despite the setback to day feeling is more generally friendly to wheat and other commodities and it is felt that some good will come out of the Lausanne Conference and help everything. Canadian crop reports are a little more two-sided. Country marketings in the west yesterday, 238,000 bushels vs. 210,000 a year ago.

Winnipeg closed 3/4 lower. Coarse grains—These markets were fairly steady but somewhat drifty in the deferred months. Quietness prevailed generally and no business was uncovered. Offerings were not pressing. Oats closed 1/2 lower to unchanged. Barley 1/2 up to 1/4 lower and rye 3/4 lower. Flax 1/2 up to unchanged. Liverpool due 3/4 lower based on Winnipeg.

ACTIVE CITIZEN GOING HOME

Miller Higgs to Live in England After 23 Years of Public Service Here

Miller Higgs, F.S.G., prominent in returned soldier, poultry, and farming and political circles, is leaving Canada to return to England where he will make his home from now on. Accompanied by Mrs. Higgs and their daughter, Miss Ruth Higgs, they will sail on August 6 aboard the Pacific Ranger of the Furness Line.

Mr. Higgs has had an active career of public service in this province, since his arrival from England twenty-three years ago to settle on a cattle ranch on the Thompson River. About 1912 he sold the ranch and moved to Sooke Harbor, near Victoria, as local agent for the Franco-Canadian Syndicate for the development of the Inner Sooke Harbor and what is now known as Saseenoo. He launched an extensive poultry development there, entered politics as secretary and then president of the Conservative Association, being closely associated with C. H. Dickie and the late Sir Richard McBride in the political activities of the district. He became publisher and editor of The Canadian Post-Tribune. During the war he enlisted with the 8th Regiment C.G.A. at Regina and saw service in France as a N.C.O. with the 3rd Battalion Canadian Railway Troops.

When the H.M.S. Hood and Regulus came to Victoria in 1924, Mr. Higgs was chosen as the organizing secretary of the Citizens' Committee for the ten days' reception here to 6,000 officers and men, at the end of which he was able to turn over to the city treasurer an unused balance of the funds collected. He was honorary treasurer of the Army and Navy Veterans here, honorary treasurer of the Victoria and Islands Branch of the Navy League in Canada and vice-president of the Gulf Islands Branch of the Canadian Legion. Seven years ago, Mr. Higgs moved to Galiano Island, where he started fox farming and founded the Galiano Island Development Association. In 1928 he was the host there to Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce and official Government House party. Last year he was elected president of the Islands' Central Conservative Association, and has been right-hand man to Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, the sitting member. For the last three years he has been president of the B.C. Fox and Fur Farmers' Association Inc., and honorary secretary of the United Fur Farmers' Council of B.C.

As an authority on heraldry, to the study of which he devoted himself as a young man in England, Mr. Higgs was chosen in 1912 to design the arms of the Episcopal See of Cariboo and also to design the civic seal of arms for the city of Kamloops. In recognition of his distinguished services in this he had the honor conferred upon him of a Fellowship in the Society of Genealogists of London, England. He designed the new seal of the city of Vancouver. He also worked out the revision of the armorial seal of that city as well as one of the municipality of West Vancouver.

STANDARD FOR EXHIBITS TOLD

W. H. Robertson, Provincial Horticulturist, Addresses Horticultural Society

A well-attended meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society in the City Hall yesterday evening heard W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist, outline to the society the required standard of fruit and vegetables for exhibition purposes by the Royal Horticultural Society and the Canadian Horticultural Council.

The speaker stated that the provincial department also had standards particularly adapted to local requirements and advised all interested to secure the bulletin dealing with this particular line. Bulletin 50 contained much that would be of practical assistance to every exhibitor, particularly those who contemplated exhibiting at the forthcoming shows.

Mr. Robertson, who has had many years' experience in judging at provincial shows, gave his audience a number of points to be remembered in choosing and preparing the various crops for the exhibition table. The days of the largest vegetable had long since gone, the best type for commercial purpose and home use being strongly advised for to-day. Numerous questions were asked the speaker at the close of his address.

HOME GARDENS
E. M. Whyte and G. Holt expressed the society's indebtedness to the speaker. The president, Dr. A. G. Price, reminded those present of the closing date of the home garden competition, July 11, and hoped there would be a record number of entries. He also stressed the need for full co-operation in the staging of the society's ninth annual show, which this year will be held at the Willows Exhibition grounds. The successful competitors in the monthly competition were: Floral section for the best specimen of rose bloom, 1. F. Rawlinson, 2. R. A. Nicholson. Vegetable section, for the best plate of peas, 1. C. W. Holt; 2. F. Moulton.

In addition to the competitive entries, Angus McKay, F.R.H.S., had on display a fine collection of violas, in which were a number of new seedlings and fine Col. Lindberghs.

EMPIRE THEATRE
Playing his first role since his success in "The Yellow Ticket," Elissa Landi appears as the leading character in "Devil's Lottery." Fox Films romantic drama, now playing at the Empire Theatre. She is supported by a cast that includes Victor McLaglen, Alexander Kirkland, Beryl Mercer, Paul Cavanagh, Ralph Morgan, Barbara Weeks, Herbert Mundin and Halliwell Hobbes. The picture was directed by Sam Taylor, from Guy Bolton's screen story which is based on Nalbro Trent's successful novel.

The Biological Board of Canada is attempting to discover the cause of the cycles of abundance and scarcity that occurs among rabbits and prairie dogs and also among various species of fish.

EMPIRE TO SHOW FIGHT PICTURES

As to whether Schmeling, the world's heavyweight champion, was unfairly deprived of the title in his last contest with Jack Sharkey can be judged by the public when they see the official picture of the fight at Madison Square Garden last month, which will be shown for six days at the Empire Theatre commencing to-morrow. The picture to be shown at the Empire will give a good idea of the run of the fight and the fans can judge for themselves. It will be 100 per cent talk and sound and the great howl of dissent that went up when the victory was awarded to Sharkey will be heard. In conjunction with the fight film a very strong programme has been arranged with Harry Lauder in his famous song successes, "Screen Souvenirs," an interesting series that takes the onlooker back thirty years in cinema history and a dramatic thunderbolt of ultra modern life, "Forgotten Commandments." It is a story of new Russia where the teaching of a new freedom in matters of love, life and marriage is practiced. It is a spectacular production in which several colossal scenes from Cecil De Mille's epic "The Ten Commandments" are taken and is one of the biggest stories of the year.

POPULAR STAR AT PLAYHOUSE

"Girl of the Rio" opened at the Playhouse Theatre to-day. Dolores Del Rio is the star of the picture in more than a nominal sense. She makes the portrait of the café entertainer a dramatic canvas of conflicting moods. At one time subdued and afraid, when the emergency occurs, she is a forceful defender of her man.

Brenon had a superb actress to work with and she fitted perfectly into a role which is inherently a part of her native tradition. The pompous braggart, Don Jose, played by Norman Foster, is played by a masterful delineator, Leo Carrillo who, like Miss Del Rio, is a direct descendant of a long line of Spanish Dons.

Carrillo's portrayal is as effective on the screen as was Bennett's and Blinn's on the stage. Nothing more could be said for any actor.

The romantic love opposite the star is played by Norma Foster, and it is extremely well done. Others who give splendid performances are Stanley Fields, Edna Murphy, Lucille Gleason, Ralph Ince and Frank Campanau.

ROMANO THEATRE
Gloria Swanson—the emotional actress—has become again Gloria Swanson, comedienne.

From her highly dramatic mother role in "The Trapdoor," she has turned to the field of comedy to achieve another triumph as the dashing madcap referred to in the title of "What a Widow" in the picture at the start of her screen career. It is perhaps the most pretentious picture she has ever produced.

BAXTER NOW AT CAPITOL

Popular Actor Has Leading Role in "Man About Town" Opposite Karen Morley

Mystery, romance, intrigue and jealousy are reported as the elements in "Man About Town," the Fox picture opening its engagement of three days at the Capitol Theatre to-day. It brings Warner Baxter to the screen in the role of a man who is ready to die to save the woman he took away from his best friend. "Man About Town" is a story of conflicting emotions, played against a background of Washington society and all the glamour of life in the national capital.

Two close friends discover themselves in love with the same woman. She makes her choice and the rejected one sets out to destroy the happy pair. But circumstances bring the friends together again, both fighting to save the woman from arrest on a charge of murdering an international spy.

Karen Morley, who will be pleasantly remembered for her performance in "Arsene Lupin," the Barrymore Brothers' picture, portrays the leading feminine role in "Man About Town." The supporting cast includes Conway Tearle, Alan Mowbray, Leni Stengel, Lillian Bond, Lawrence Grant and Halliwell Hobbes.

DOMINION THEATRE
George Brent, a newcomer to the screen, takes his place among the screen's favorite heroes with his roles opposite Barbara Stanwyck in "So Big" and Ruth Chatterton in "The Rich Are Always With Us," the latter of which is now at the Dominion Theatre. Brent is a handsome young Irishman who has played more than three hundred roles on the legitimate stage, many of them in his own stock companies. He began his career while attending college in Dublin, leaving school to join the Abbey Theatre there. At the age of twenty he participated in the Irish Revolution and was forced to flee the country.

Coming to the United States, Brent began a theatrical career that has carried him to his present important position as one of the most desired leading men.

In "The Rich Are Always With Us" Brent appears as a successful author with whom Ruth Chatterton falls in love as a result of the ardent court he pays her before she is divorced from her husband. After his first day on the set with Miss Chatterton, the star said that she enjoyed working opposite him more than any other leading man she has ever had.

KEN MAYNARD AT COLUMBIA
A fast-moving, action-loaded western drama is on the bill at the Columbia Theatre, with Ken Maynard in one of Tiffany Productions' tense screen stories of the western plains.

Maynard does some of his breath-taking trick riding in this picture in the role of a bandit, estranged from his gang through his love and loyalty to an old cripple, who becomes sheriff of a mining town much against his will.

As the crippled and useless member of the band, Lloyd Ingraham presents an excellent characterization. Ken Maynard, Harry Woods and Edgar Lewis, also members of the cast, all contribute to the general excellence of this picture, and added honors go to the famous wonder horse, Tarzan.

An investigating of clays and shales in the Turner Valley district, Alberta, with a view to their development by use of natural gas, is reported to have shown suitable shales for manufacture of paving and face brick, various kinds of tiles and terra cotta, also redware pottery.
